'Miss S.S.F. Pageantry Is Saturday

By DON GRIERSON

Plans are set for the fifteenth annual "Miss South San Francisco" pageant, chamber of commerce officals said today, and the nine entrants in the city's official pageant are in the midst of a week of "pre-pageant" activities.

In addition to participating in daily rehearsals, the girls will be official guests of the C of C at Brentwood Lodge on Wednesday.

Saturday, they will he escorted in offical cars to a breakfast with pageant judges at the Holiday Inn, beginning at 9 a.m.

At 11 a.m., the beauty contestants will begin a caravan through the city, accompanied by the "Little Miss South San Francisco" queens, Susan Pacheco and Lori Ann Worley. The junior queens are being sponsored by the South San Francisco Boys' Club.

Theme of the pageant, which begins at 8 p.m. in the South San Francisco High School auditorium, is "Laka, Queen of the Hula," according to pageant Director James Sargen.

Entertainment for the show will include a performance by the San Francisco Islanders, with Linda Troche, Tommy Poltese and the Kelelani Troupe, featuring Franklin Olson.

Tony Tremaine, KYA newscaster, will serve as master of ceremonies, assisted by Carell Funai, "Miss South San Francisco" of 1967, Sherri Rapp, "Miss California" of 1964, and

State Education Aide Raps P.E. Claims at Camino

A high-ranking state education official has taken issue with a report released by El Camino High School last month praising the school's experimental "flexible physical education" program.

C. Carson Conrad, chief of the California Bureau of Health Education, Physical Education and Recreation, said he has notified El Camino Principal Robert C. Keropian that it is "inappropriate to use any part of the results of this exploratory work as evidence of the merits of flexible scheduling over daily scheduling of physical education."

Keropian said last month students in the three-day-a-week "flexible" program "do nearly 100 per cent better in physical fitness tests than the youngsters taking P.E. five days a week."

The three-day-a-week physical education students get their exercise in two 100-minute classes and one 50-minute class, while the five-day classes run 50 minutes each.

Keropian said the time saved in eliminating two dressing and showering periods is used for actual exercise in the flexible program, and this is presumably the chief benefit.

El Camino began the pilot projectin 1960, with special authorization from the State Department of Educatiion. Special authorization was required because present state law stipulates that each student will receive 50 minutes of physical education each school day.

An amendment rescinding the five-class requirement and leaving the matter to the discretion of local school boards was adopted by both the Senate and Assembly last month, but Governor Ronald Reagan has not yet signed the bill into law.

In his letter critical of the El Camino principal's report, Conrad said "the entire study needs to be completed before final conclusions are drawn."

He also charged the South San Francisco project had "questionable reporting methods and many inconsistencies."

Conrad, along with Dr. William Harkness, professor of physical education at San Francisco State College, and Dr. Genevie Dexter of the State Department of Education, has served as special consultant to the El Camino staff members involved in the project.

As a result of this involvement, he examined the El Camino program "first hand" last January and February, and arrived at the conclusion that the school "doesn't have a quality physical education program."

$2.5 Million Suit Against Brisbane Filed

The City of Brisbane and others are being sued for $2.5 million as an aftermath to the death of a Brisbane couple on December 5, 1966.

In filing suit on behalf of the estate, the office of Attorney Thomas Bocci of South San Francisco said yesterday that Leon H. Durham and his wife Betta J. Durham were killed in an auto accident. The suit blames the condition of the Brisbane highway on which construction work was being done.

Included as defendants in the suite are the State of California, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, B&C Construction Company, Kerb Construction Co., and Heritage Homes.

Ruling Today On Bruno Flood Plan

The county board of supervisors, still divided on the San Bruno flood control issue after considerable additional discussion Tuesday, postponed a decision until 9:30 a.m. today.

Although it appeared that a majority favored acceptance of San Bruno's offer to finance flood control works, the supervisors agreed to wait until tomorrow to vote on it. Chairman James. V. Fitzgerald of San Bruno, who is attending a civil defense conference in Hawaii, will be back for the meeting.

Former S.S.F. Councilman Cortesi Dies

Emilio Cortesi, 78, dean of South San Francisco's city government leaders, died Monday at Mary's Help Hospital while the council upon which he served for 22 years was in session.

A city councilman since 1946, and a past mayor, Cortesi declined to seek re-election last month, concluding 22 years of service because of failing health.

He was hospitalized for several weeks last year with a heart ailment, and returned to the hospital shortly after announcing his decision to retire from city government last month.

During his record tenure on the council, Cortesi was instrumental in shaping the city's develr nent during its period of most rapid growth. He served

DC's General Plan Outlined

Daly City's $105,000 general plan, which maps out the future growth of the entire area from Coastside to Bay for the next two decades, was outlined to a joint meeting of the Planning Commission and City Council last week.

Planning consultant Lawrence Livingston Jr., of Livingston & Blayney, made the presentation using architectural-type drawings, maps and charts to illustrate target areas the city should concentrate on during this growth period.

The comprehensive plan, partially financed through urban planning grants from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), was the culmination of more than two years of work, Livingston pointed out in the report.

The planning area includes not only Daly City, but Broadmoor, San Bruno Mountain (the largest undeveloped area in the North County), Colma and Brisbane as well. All are considered by the planners to be related to the growth of Daly City.

A citizens advisory committee report, published last December, has been closely followed by the consultants and except for a few minor instances the 58-member committee report parallels the professional report.

Livingston explained the importance of the proposed Rapid Transit station to the city and unveiled a plan for building a tramway between the low-lying BART station and upper Mis-

Ceremony To Launch Road Work

Groundbreaking ceremonies, marking the start of construction on the new Route 1 (Cabrillo Highway) freeway in Daly City, will be held at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Jointly sponsored by the City of Daly City and the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, the ceremonies will be at the future northbound connection to the Junipero Serra freeway.

This new construction will extend Route 1 as a six-lane freeway from its junction with Interstate 280 to St. Francis Boulevard, to the present junction of Skyline Boulevard and Route 1.

The contract for the $1,800,000 project will be performed by Peter Kiewit Sons' Company. It is estimated that completion will be about a year after construction starts.

Work will include the building of undercrossings at Clarinada and Southgate Avenues, to permit local traffic to cross beneath the freeway.

An Attempt To Control Noise Level

Two acoustical engineering experts Monday suggested ways and means of insuring the proposed Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BARDT) terminus station in Daly City will not generate excessive sound, thus disturbing residents of the area.

Roger P. Maineri, of San Francisco, and Frank J. Taforo of Daly City, met with the Daly City council Monday to discuss acoustical design of all three BARTD stations that have been proposed for the 13-acre Knowles Avenue site.

According to the experts, all stations, regardless of their design or whether they are built above or below the ground, will contribute to the noise factor level in that area.

The engineers showed the council various station designs for aerial facilities in the East Bay and pointed out what the council should insist upon before allowing BARTD to build in their city.

They explained the allowable decible levels around such facilities and how this measurement of sound affects people.

Taforo suggested the city ask BARTD to conduct a noise test on the vacant lot and then ask the transit district to establish sound levels. Once this is done, the city could insist that the levels be adhered to, and measures

They were talking about Paul M. Hupf, former Daly City councilman, former City Attorney, and present presiding judge of the Northern Judicial District Court in South San Francisco.

Complaints Received

D.C. Council Attacks CATV

The three-year-old Community Antenna Television System (CATV) has come under attack from the Daly City council "because of the increasing amount of complaints from subscribers."

City attorney Albert Polonsky charged Monday the company has failed to provide its more than 300 local users with adequate service and the city with "promised franchise agreements."

Polonsky told the city council "there are severe deficiencies in their operation and they have failed to file necessary reports with the city."

The attorney had been asked five weeks ago to investigate the operations of CATV and report back to the council.

He dropped his bombshell report midway through the study session Monday.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett reacted quickly by instructing Polonsky to immediately set a public hearing on the matter in order to "find out exactly what's going on."

Last week the company submitted plans for the installation of the cable television system in the Olympic section of Daly City. To date, CATV has installed the wire, at an initial cost of $25 plus $5 monthly users fee, in the Terrace area east of Mission, a city spokesman said.

The action does not mean the company's franchise will be taken away, Polonsky said. "It simply means we want a lot of questions on their operation and intentions answered."

In making his charges before the council, Polonsky accused CATV of being in violation of Section 9A-10 of the City Code, which states a company needs the approval of the city engineer to erect any facility, tower or aerial.

son Street shopping area. This system would give a "shot in the arm" to business along the Top of the Hill, it was explained.

Adjacent to the BART station the planners have envisioned high-rise apartments with sweeping views of the bay and plenty of open space for pedestrian walkways. The station area, central Daly City, Westlake apartment zones and certain areas of San Bruno Mountain (Crocker Property) is considered to be "high-density areas" with units ranging from 45 to 60 per gross acre.

Although there has been no development schedule set for these areas, a total of some 10,000 dwelling units is not unlikely for both the north and south ridges of the Crocker property and also on "Daly City Hill." The development would include medium low density construction along with high density apartments, depending on the final plan adopted by Crocker.

In the Bayshore area, the Midway Village housing project site is proposed for redevelopment to residential use (medium density), if, and when the present temporary public housing is removed.

The planners said if the entire planning area, excluding San Francisco, South San Francisco and Pacifica, were fully developed as proposed there would be about 25,000 single family dwellings and 19,500 multi-family units — housing a total of some 125,000.

In the commercial development of Daly City, the planners suggest the area bounding the new Civic Center be restricted to government offices, with Mary's Help Hospital lands housing medical offices, clinics and a convalescent hospital aimed at "total care" of sick persons.

The plan also considers a large (50 acre) site ujst north of the huge Sacramento Shopping Center to be suitable for offices, such as insurance companies and similar firms that "would benefit from proximity to the regional center . . ." The area was temporarily considered as a site for an automobile sales center, but the idea was discarded when it was concluded it might pull customers away from the present Mission Street sales tax revenues.

Retail business offices were likewise proposed on Hickey and Gellert boulevards, at Callan Boulevard and King Drive, on San Bruno Mountain and on the present drive-in theater site off Bellevue Avenue. Expansion of the shopping center (where the Alec store is now located) adjoining a proposed second BART station, was recommended in the plan.

Due to the limited undeveloped flat land in Daly City, the plan touched only on development of the Crocker Industrial Park and the area between Bayshore Boulevard and the Bayshore Freeway (mostly in Brisbane.) Portions of this land must be limited to what type of industry is situated there because it is mostly on garbage fill, the report cautions.

taken to eliminate any noises after the station is built.

Asked what the council should ask for in the way of sound suppression devices, the engineers said "we can't flatly recommend any one thing."

Each sound must be traced to its source and a specific design drawn up to suppress it, the pair said.

Department Store Wins S.S.F. Permit

South San Francisco councilmen approved a use permit for the U.S.E. department store in Buri Buri Monday, after developers of the proejct agreed to a number of conditions pertaining to parking arrangements in the parking center.

Councilmen stipulated that a joint entrance to the new store be established between the building and the existing commercial parking lot, and that the U.S.E. firm obtain a written agreement with the Bank of America to share parking with the Buri Buri branch bank.

The council also required that the QFI firm and owners of other business properties in the shopping center file letters stating the new store "will not adversely effect their parking situation" before granting the permit.

Waivers of "all objections" to the new parking arrangements from the other commercial concerns were required, along with mutual consent to redesigning the parking area according to approved architect's plans.

In other business, councilmen accepted a petition from 25 retired city employes requesting that the city pay premiums on their health insurance.

The former employes asked the council to "consider paying monthly premiums on our health insurance, as the city is doing for present employes, to compensate for the ever increasing cost of living on a fixed income."

Payment of the insurance premiums for retired personnel would cost the city approximately $400 per month, according to City Clerk Arthur Rodondi.

Councilmen placed the matter upon the agenda for the next scheduled study meeting.

A resolution "reaffirming the council's position favoring the lower route for proposed Freeway 280" was adoped at the meeting, and councilmen referred damage claims from 29 Francisco Terrace residents to the city's insurance carriers.

The 29 claimants, represented by the law office of Sherman and Haverty, are seeking several hundred thousand dollars in claims stemming from flood damage which occurred in the area last winter.

The homeowners have also filed claims against Daly City and other surrounding cities on grounds that development of these areas contributed to flooding conditions in Colma Creek.

Westlake Theft Of Jewelry

Burglars broke into the Kay's Jewelry store in the Westlake Shopping Center early Tuesday morning and carted off an undetermined amount of merchandise, including rings, cuff links and a television set.

Daly City police said the crime was apparently committed by amateurs, judging by the methods used in gaining entry.

A heavy duty pry bar was used to force open the front door after smashing a showcase window. A burglar alarm was set off almost as soon as the burglars started "peeling" the front door, police said.

Officer James McHenry and a nearby gasoline station attendant heard the alarm about 4:11 a.m. However by the time the officer arrived at the scene the burglars had fled, dropping rings and a portable television set along the way.

Store officials were conducting an extensive inventory this morning to determine their loss. Most of the diamonds are locked in a safe overnight and only the less expensive items left in the display window and cases, police said.

16 Seeking 'Miss D.C.' Beauty Title

Sixteen girls are now in the running for the "Miss Daly City" crown, to be presented May 29 at the westmoor High School Little Theatre.

Latest to enter the competition are:

Verdell Lovings, Lynette Mudge, Kay Kaiser, Antoniette Albinana, Robens Brown and Jean Meyers.

Previously entering the event were Mary Franklin, Melody Franklin, Debra Jean Fortin, Linda Lippi, Linda Robert, Kathy Scanlon, Jimmie Rance, Sharon Fisher, Dorothy Barragan and Cornelia Carson.

Halverson To C. of C. Post

Don Halverson, an official of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, was named to the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors this week.

Halverson replaces Director James Donahue Jr., who resigned last month because Chamber board commitments conflicted wiht his business schedules.

Halverson is a newcomer to Daly City and is active in many civic and business organizations. He will finish out Donohue's four-year term.

"official" duties, rather they stuck to his "outside" contributions.

The Reverend Bernard Cummins told the more than 220 business and civic leaders attending the function that Hupf was instrumental in bringing about the revolutionary Catholic Pastoral Council, an advisory body of Catholic laymen to the church.

"He has served his country in the military service, on the city council and as city attorney, in addition to various charitable organizations," Cummins said.

Cummins told of Hupf's many hours devoted to working for the church; as president of the Archdiocese of Catholic Men, on numerous charitable drives and in attempting to draw up outlines for the new advisory council.

Hupf was recently honored in Washington, D.C., where he was awarded the St. Thomas More award for his "many tireless efforts on behalf of the Catholic Church."

"Like St. Thomas More, Paul Hupf is truly a Man for all Seasons," Cummins said. "In these changing times we need more men like Paul, more men for all seasons."

Hupf was visibly surprised at the dinner, a well-kept secret for the past two weeks, and was at a loss for words.

In thanking those attending, Hupf said he was "extremely proud "to have served the city and that "Daly City is a marvelous city, but not properly understood."

"I have tried to do what I can and pray to God that I will be able to continue to do what I can for whatever years are left for me," Hupf said.

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum presented Hupf with a seven-piece desk set, a gift from his friends, "because the one he has in his office isn't any good and he needs one to sign those court orders."

ters in California, and none of the students involved have qualified for the Presidential Physical Fitness Award," he said.

Conrad also said the school's physical education program does not meet criteria for physical education established by the State Board of Education, and physical performance test scores for the school are below the state averages.

No Second Trial For Promoter

Grand theft charges against a man accused of bilking a group of Pacifica merchants were dismissed on Monday by Superior Judge J. A. Branson.

Deputy District Attorney William Lanam told the court that his office had decided against re-trying the charges against Edward L. Keller of San Leandro.

A seven-day trial ended in a mistrial last week when a jury failed to agree on a verdict. The jury, which stood 10 to 2 for acquittal soon after it started its deliberations, stood the same way 15 hours later. Two women jurors, convinced of the defendant's guilt were the holdouts.

Keller, who was represented by Attorney Herbert McGuire, was accused of collecting $520 in deposits from merchants in the Pacifica Manor Shopping Center for a promotion that was never held. Keller said the merchants were responsible for cancellation of the promotion.

Although the charges were dismissed here, Keller is not a free man today. He remained in county jail in Redwood City because several other jurisdictions have placed "holds" against him and want him for trial on similar charges.

Howard E. Gawthrop told the board that a suggestion made by Supervisor Robert St. Clair that the city give, rather than loan, $700,000 to the flood control district, would not be legal. The city, following the defeat of a bond issue, has offered to loan the money, to be repaid at the rate of $35,000 a year.

St. Clair said this week he would vote for a flood control project but not for the method of financing, which would require a special tax levy in the district to repay the loan. Board members Jean Fassler and William M. Werder indicated that they would vote for the agreement, however.

County Manager E. R. Stallings said negotiations with San Francisco for the contribution of an additional $55,000 as International Airport's share of the project have not been completed. He suggested that negotiations could continue while construction bids are being called.

If the board approves the agreement tomorrow, the city council could act on it Monday night and the supervisors could issue their call for bids Tuesday.

San Bruno officials said a meeting to consider the flood control agreement with the county would be held at 8 p.m. today. (Earlier Story, Page 5.)

Bruno Garden Show Due Thursday, Blooms Massed

The twelfth annual flower show of the San Bruno Garden Club will be held at the Dollar Savings and Loan Building on San Mateo Avenue, in San Bruno. Dates of the show are May 23-24-25 and it will be open to the public at no charge.

A special preview night is planned for Thursday evening, May 22 at 8 p.m. for San Bruno Garden Club members and their guests and Dollar Savings and Loan officials. Refreshments will be served.

The show is sponsored entirely by the Dollar Savings and Loan Company with Mrs. A. Norman Huff and her flower show committee doing the coordinating and San Bruno Garden Club members are trying to surpass all other years in their mass arrangements and the number of horticulture specimens.

As a special part of the show, there will be Invitational arrangements by outstanding members of the Bay-Ocean District. In the past, these have been massive types of various schools. The titles, this year should prove a challenge to these arrangers and the results should be worth seeing. They will be "Flower Arrangement of the Year," and "Choose Your Artist." All categories are themed to the picture theme in their titles.

The Intermediate Division will have "Artist's Retreat," "Garden Galaxy" and "Reflections of Spring" for their creativity. This unit is open only to members who have won at least four but not more than six blue ribbons in any organized show.

The Advanced class is always the show stopper. Members in this class include: Mrs. A. Norman Huff, Mrs. Raymond Kirk, Mrs. Charles Kunz, Mrs. Jack Kueper and Mrs. George Simonean. Their categories are "Left Bank," "Imagination and Flowers" and "Moments to Remember." Glower arrangements depicting these titles should prove to be arresting as well as interesting.

As in the past, the Dollar Savings and Loan Company has donated the various large trophies that will be awarded during the show.

The Individual Sweepstakes award will be given to the members garnering the most blue ribbons in all three divisions, the Horticulture, Artistic and Miniature classes. The Awards of Merit will be given to the best specimens in both the cut flower and the potted plant division.

These awards are given on the basis of uniqueness of the specimens as well as the overall conditions of the plant or flower.

Sisterhood Honor Set

Sabbath services at Congregation B'nai Israel in Colma on Friday will be in honor of the Sisterhood.

Services will begin at 8:30 p.m., conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Henry Greenberg.

Participating in the services will be Mrs. Bernard Friedman, Sisterhood president, who will light the Sabbath Candles.

Mrs. Werner Snyder will lead a responsive reading and Hebrew and English readings will be performed by the Mesdames Henry Baum, Ronald Cohn, Albert Marcus and Gary Papelbaum.

Also participating will be Mrs. Solomon A. Shore and Mrs. Ben Brown, who will read the Prayer before the Kiddush.

A Oneg Shabbat (social hour) following the services will be held by members of the Sisterhood.

Westmoor High Music Boosters Plan Meeting Thursday Night

The Westmoor Music Boosters' Club will hold a meeting in Westmoor's teacher's cafeteria, Thursday night, 9:15 p.m., after the Fine Arts Festival.

The Festival involves all areas of the Fine Arts Department, and is open to the public. A record crowd is expected at this event, which has become a tradition at Westmoor.

The Music Booster's Club meeting will feature a review of the performances of the Music Department during the past year. Howard Loeffler, music director, will report on past and future performances. The Club will have election of officers for the coming year. Refreshments will be served.

'Hot Line' Links County Fire Depts.

A co-ordinated communications system linking nearly all of the fire departments in San Mateo County in an emergency radio system for use in mutual aid requests and in the event of a disaster has begun operation.

Redwood City Fire Chief Joseph L. Lodi, co-ordinator for the county operation, reports that all but three fire departments in the county are on the network which is part of a state-wide system.

The three departments not sharing in the mutual aid system are Pacifica, which will soon join, and the volunteer departments of Colma and Point Montara.

Redwood City fire department is the communications center for the network. The flick of a switch at "Redwood fire control" can put any department in radio contact with Lodi, or vice-versa.

Also, the communications center can communicate directly with the region two mutual aid and disaster center at Fairfield, Solano County. Eleven counties between Eureka and San Benito counties are in region two in the state network.

Under Lodi's leadership, with the assistance of alternate co-ordinator Noe Chateloup, chief of the San Mateo Fire Department, an inventory is kept of all available fire fighting equipment and personnel in the county.

At the present time a total of 956 firemen, including volunteers, and 177 pieces of equipment are on the inventory list, Lodi reports.

The mutual aid program also includes a log of locations where equipment and personnel sent on a mutual aid mission can be met by the recipient department for directions to the location of a fire or disaster. A minimum of four men are assigned to each piece of equipment sent in response to a mutual aid request.

Also available through the county civil defense and disaster office are inventories of heavy-duty equipment, such as earth movers and cranes, which might be needed in an emergency situation.

Lodi is in the process of attempting to develop a roster of persons with knowledge in chemicals who could advise in fighting chemical fires and suggest measures for the protection of the public in such fires.

Although the communications center is located at the Redwood City department, the radio operation goes through the county communications equipment and repeaters. A tone signal system, nearly completed, is being tested. The signal will alert an individual department or all departments on the system that a message is coming on the mutual aid network.

Weekly tests are held on Tuesdays to assure that the system is functioning properly and equipment is in order.

Lodi's deputy chief, John Keller, reports that member departments are continuously exploring possible ways to keep upgrading and refining the system. To this end, future drills are scheduled at unspecified times of the day and night and at peak hours to determine if the emergency operation can be carried out without jeopardizing the normal function of departments involved.

Members of the state, area and county systems are occasionally placed on alert in anticipation of possible civil disasters resulting from civil disorders. To date, no alert has resulted in a request for aid.

Hopefully, none will be forthcoming, Lodi states. But if the need arises, the help will be there.

McCarthy to Talk At Cow Palace

Presidential candidate Senator Eugene J. McCarthy will appear at the Cow Palace before an expected 16,000 people the night of Wednesday, May 22, his California campaign headquarters announced.

The appearance of the Senator will climax a day of campaigning through Northern California, with stops scheduled for Redding, Chico, San Jose, Hayward and San Francisco.

The Cow Palace program will begin at 8 p.m., with entertainment, including several Hollywood stars, arranged by the McCarthy Northern California campaign.

Students and children will be admitted free of charge, Northern California McCarthy Chairman G. W. Holsinger said.

There will be 4,500 reserved seats at $5 each, and 11,500 general admission seats at $2, he said. (Students and children will be admitted to the general seating area.)

Tickets may be purchased at McCarthy for President Northern California Headquarters, Second Floor, 98 Post Street, San Francisco, at McCarthy San Francisco Headquarters, 102 Fox Plaza and at the Cow Palace box office the evening of May 22.

"Supporters of Senator McCarthy will be coming from throughout Northern California to see and hear the Senator," Holsinger said.

Young Robber Takes Cash At Gas Station

A youthful robber held up a San Bruno service station Wednesday afternoon and escaped on foot after ripping the telephone off the wall, police reported.

Officers said an unkempt youth about 18 robbed the C and B Texaco Station at 1580 El Camino Real about 4:15 p.m.

Operators Phillip Clark and James Baker said the robber removed $108 from the cash register and $30 from their wallets after brandishing a .25-caliber automatic pistol.

The suspect was described as a male adult, about six feet tall, of medium build, wearing dirty blue jeans and long blond hair.

Bonnie Fowler Wins a Crown

BONNIE FOWLER

Bonnie Fowler, an 18-year-old El Camino High School student, won the "Miss Industrial City" title Saturday night in the first of two beauty pageants.

Miss Fowler, who performed a jazz dance routine in the talent division, was also voted "Miss Congeniality" by her fellow contestants.

First runner-up in the pageant was Lynn Woodman, 17, another El Camino High student, and Barbara Dickson, a 17-year-old from South San Francisco High School, was second runner-up.

"Miss Industrial City" will compete in the "Miss San Mateo County' Pageant next year, and the winner of next week's "official" "Miss South San Francisco" Pageant will enter the Fiesta Dream Girl competition at the County Fair.

Miss Fowler plans to attend College of San Mateo next year, and will continue to study dance.

Pageant director, Mrs. Dolly Schumacher Drew, said Saturday's production was a "tremendous success," and she plans to produce another "independent" pageant next year.

The pageant was held at Capuchiso High School in San Bruno.

Two Caught In Roadblock

Two East Bay men were arrested this week in a North County roadblock after a Millbrae service station was robbed of an estimated $120.

Millbrae police report the "till tap" took place at the Millbrae Union Station, Millbrae Avenue at El Camino Real, at 2:40 p.m.

Booked on charges of petty theft were David W. Pedrico, 32, Martinez, and David R. Morales, 30, Rodeo.

An attendant said the two men were in a black station wagon which drew up at his pumps, bought $1 worth of gasoline, then asked to borrow a screwdriver.

While his back was turned, the attendant told police, he heard his cash register open, then saw the station wagon drive away.

Minutes later, South San Francisco Officers Douglas McCool and Joseph Simpson spotted the car on Junipero Serra near Avalon Drive, and were joined by Officer George Carlton, Brisbane.

Stopping the vehicle at the Washington Street off ramp in Daly City, the officers arrested Pedrico and Morales.

Slide Pins Youngster Under Rock

A team of South San Francisco police and firemen Sunday worked over 40 minutes to rescue an eight-year-old boy who had been trapped beneath a large, flat rock on San Bruno Mountain.

The victim, Robert Hastings of 141 Gardner, South San Francisco, was badly shaken, but unhurt, when he was pinned beneath the four-by-six foot, slab-like rock by a shale slide.

Hastings and an unidentified companion had been playing under the rock when shale above them toppled down, trapping both of them.

However, the other youngster dug himself free. He ran to a motel at the bottom of the mountain and obtained assistance from an adult there.

One of Hasting's feet had been pinned down by one of the falling rocks and he was unable to free himself.

South San Francisco police and firemen were called at 2:40 p.m. and a team of three policemen and six firemen worked some 40 minutes, one rock at a time, to clear the opening where Hastings was trapped.

The flat rock, about 12-inches thick, was perched like a shelf, on top of other rocks about a quarter of a mile north of Randolph Avenue and 200 yards up from Bayshore Highway on the southeast side of San Bruno mountain.

Bruno Girl Pinned As Auto Flips

A 17-year-old San Bruno girl, pinned beneath the wreckage of her foreign-made compact car after it overturned Sunday, was reported in "grave" condition at Peninsula Hospital, where she was admitted with head and chest injuries.

San Bruno police said Beverly Donahoo, of 2404 Whitman Way, was westbound on Crystal Springs Road, about 675 feet west of Junipero Serra Boulevard, when she lost control of the car at 9:45 a.m.

The car flied to negotiate a curve and overturned. Miss Donahoo was ejected and the vehicle came to rest on top of her.

An uninjured companion, Joseph George Boos, 1431 Greenwood Way, San Bruno, and two passing motorists, Enrico Joseph Fambrini, 60, of 3491 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno, and Frank Joseph Dunphy, 35, 126 Piedmont Avenue, San Bruno, managed to lift the car off Miss Donahoo before an ambulance arrived.

Sheriff Holds Two After Finding Gun

Two Daly City men were jailed last Tuesday when sheriff's deputies found a pistol in their possession.

Deputies Thomas O'Rourke and Harvey Rutenberg said the weapon's serial number had been filed away. They reported that both suspects have been convicted of a felony and are forbidden to have guns.

Booked at county jail were Ronald J. Pereira, 27, a machinist's helper, and Jerry W. DeMateo, 28-year-old shipfitter, both of 798 Parkview Drive.

The deputies said they came upon the men beside a car on San Bruno Mountain in Daly City.

DeMateo, they said, got out of jail only two weeks ago after serving a year in San Francisco for burglary. Pereira told the deputies he had also served time for burglary.

A Display Of Creative Talent Set

Students will put their creative talent on display Thursday night May 23 as Westmoor High presents its annual art festival to the public.

"The Medium is the 'MAD-'ness" is the festival's theme, 'M.A.D.' standing for 'M'usic, 'A'rt, 'D'rama. Lights will flash, music will relax, and scenes will be dramatized as the fine arts sutdents combine their talents in a single effort.

All art rooms will be opened for inspection. Free form sculptures will tower over onlookers as they try to pass through a maze of three dimensional moving art objects. Short sketches will be presented by the Drama department in the Little Theater.

Instructor Loeffler, head of the music department, has divided the music activities into three separate sections. One section will consist of the stage band which was recently rated as the best school band throughou the western states. Another section will have singers and dancers performing.

The final section is entitled the "Inventive" room.

In this room Dan Long will demonstrate his homemade electrical musical instrument. The instrument is called a thermin and produces different pitched sound waves as Dan moves his hand over the instrument.

Elithea Whitaker will play her musical goblets which produces a sound much like a flute. A fluid projection system (much the same as a light show) will be projected on a combo, the lights are supposed to influence the music that the group plays The combo consists of Bill Brown on guitar, Kirk Olson on bass, Greg Adams on trumpet and Mike Hinton on drums.

'Gratifying Turn' In Drug Cases

The usually disagreeable topic of drug abuse took a gratifying turn for trustees for the San Mateo High School District when they acted to return three previously expelled students to their classrooms and cleared the way for a fourth to graduate this spring.

When the four were expelled from Capuchino High bschool in February for distributing drugs to other students, the trustees directed school administrators to work with each family "for the rehabilitation of the students until such time that they might petition for readmission."

That time is now, according to the recommendation of Ernie A. Hickson, Capuchino principal.

The trustees Thursday night approved reinstating the three undergraduate students to be effective at the beginning of the summer session and voted to permit the fourth student, who has been attending a private school this semester, to receive his diploma in June.

"This is a very pleasant duty," Board President Elizabeth Cullinan said. "Our district has a policy not only of taking a firm stand against drug abuse among our students, but of following up with diligent efforts to help such students overcome their problem and make the necessary adjustments for returning to school. The fact that we can take such action as we did tonight seems to justify that policy."

The trustees also moved forward on a proposal to provide extra compensation or make other adjustments for teachers whose jobs are rated as more than a "standard load."

Following the recommendations of the administration and the district teachers association, the trustees asked the teacher load study committee to come up with a mathematical basis for rating teacher loads as "standard" and to suggest a monetary compensation scale or other forms of adjustment for teachers in the overload areas. The committee was asked to report to the trustees at the next meeting June 6.

Bruno Flood Plan Rejected By County

Another Flood Control Story, page 9

San Bruno's plan for flood control improvements ran into more trouble at the meeting of the County B ard of Supervisors in Redwood City last week.

The city's offer to loan $700,000 to the San Bruno Creek Flood Control District, which is run by the county board, was not accepted by the supervisors. Member Robert St. Clair insisted that the city give the money to the district rather than loan it.

And it was revealed at the meeting that San Francisco is about $100,000 short of having enough money budgeted for its share of the project — improvements at International Airport.

Conferences were scheduled to try to work out these problems and the matter was continued to 11:15 a.m. next Tuesday.

Hamilton Appears

Councilman Maurice K. Hamilton appeared before the board once again to urge acceptance of the city's offer to advance the $700,000 needed for construction, which is to consist chiefly of improvements to the Belle Air channel.

He insisted that the action of the voters in turning down a bond issue proposal April 9 was not a vote against the project but against the method of financing.

The bonds would have required $400,000 in interest payments, whereas the loan offered by San Bruno would be interest free, to be repaid $35,000 a year for 20 years.

An estimated tax rate of no more than 10 cents would be levied within the district to amortize the loan.

St. Clair, however, had a different interpretation of the election results.

"The fact is," he said, "that 40 per cent of the voters who went to the polls voted against it. The action proposed for this board to take would be circumventing the voters. If San Bruno has the money, let them spend it, not tax the people for it."

St. Clair's Plan

St. Clair proposed that the city and the district make a joint powers agreement and that San Bruno take over the flood control project with the money it would donate.

Hamilton, however, declared that what St. Clair was proposing would be an illegal gift of public funds and stated flatly that the city would not consider it. He explained that about a third of San Bruno, which helped contribute to the reserve fund from which the $700,000 would be taken, is not in the flood control district.

Deputy District Attorney Howard E. Gawthrop said he was "inclined to concur" with Hamilton but had not researched the point.

It was finally agreed that the matter would be referred to County Manager E. R. Stallings and V. K. Sanders, county flood control engineer. They are to work up two forms of joint powers agreement, one embodying St. Clair's proposal, the other Hamilton's. They are also to meet with airport officials before next Tuesday in an effort to work out the problem there.

Sanders said San Francisco's share of the cost, estimated at $340,000 two years ago, has now been computed to be $445,000. Airport manager George Hanson wrote to Sanders that he would have to justify the increase before the Public Utilities Commission would budget the additional mney.

The joint powers proposals are to be made contingent upon re-negotiation of the district's contract with the airport.

Several speakers urged the supervisors not to delay the matter any longer. Hamilton said that, although defeat of the bond issue has set the project back two months, there is still time to get most of the work done before the rainy season next winter.

The speakers agreed on the urgency of the work but differed on how it should be financed.

S.S.F. Fight Over Pact

A group of teachers are up in arms over alleged attempts by the South San Francisco Unified School District to obtain contract signatures before they are legally due, according to American Federation of Teachers official James Lynch.

Lynch said Tuesday that the district administration sent out contracts to all teachers May 1, and included a letter stating the contracts would have to be signed and returned by May 20 if the teachers were to be hired for the 1968-69 school year.

"This is contrary to the state law," Lynch said, "aside from being very irritating to the teachers."

The AFT official said tenured teachers actually have until June 31 to return their contracts and his organization consider those signed and returned early this month "null and void" because the district misinformed teachers.

"District administration wants the contracts signed prematurely in order to achieve an advantage in current salary negotiations," Lynch charged, "while negotiations for the teachers are definitely opposed to allowing this unfair advantage."

The district negotiating council is seeking an 8.9 per cent pay increase, and Lynch said 100 teachers from the AFT and the California Teachers' Association chapter have vowed not to sign their contracts until the pay increase is approved.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

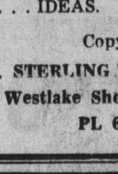
DO YOU NEED IDEAS?

The most important products which furniture dealers and decorators have to offer are IDEAS.



When you shop for furniture, whether an odd piece or a homefull, you are principally shopping for ideas.

A lamp, a sofa, a bedroom or dining room suite are all lifeless objects which are brought to life only with the infusion of ideas.

Most furniture stores try to offer a wide selection of well-designed, well-constructed and fairly priced furniture; but, other things being equal, you will undoubtedly want to make your purchase at the store which offers you the best, constructive ideas.

Where do we get our ideas? We get them by drawing upon our experience, our constant research, our imagination and taste.

We visit furniture shows and factories in order to keep up with everything in the industry.

We read and absorb all of the trade journals, decorating publications and informative literature offered by the manufacturers.

We keep constantly informed on trends in style, color, textures and finishes and we must be good businessmen in order to select the best values.

It is not easy, but it is all necessary in order to offer you that priceless ingredient . . . IDEAS.

THE Social Event!

PAUL HUPF'S TESIMONIAL at Lake Merced was THE social event of the year (so far) in the North County. But not being much of a social writer (more of a sociable drinker) I can't describe what the ladies were wearing, only that they ALL looked lovely. The men just looked . . . And what are the chances of two women sitting opposite each other wearing the exact same dress? Not so good, you say? Well it happened Saturday night at that testimonial. There were about 250 people attending.

AND WHILE WE'RE ON THE SUBJECT. Speaker (D. C. mayor) Bernard Lycett, in heaping praise on the Guest of Honor, kept referring to the City Council as the "Board." "A Freudian slip perhaps?

THE PRESIDENT'S AWARD for outstanding service has been awarded to four Daly City Police Explorer Scouts for their efforts during the recent Scout-O-Rama at Foster City. Troop leader Bob Sola (Post 817) said the scouts — Chris Hansen, Mike Rash, Don Belli and Jack Stober — braved dust and sun in the line of duty during the two day meet directing traffic in the heavily-congested area.

WELCOME HOME DEPT — Daly City Clerk Anna Ohlendorf's son, Len, just got back from the Vietnam Thing. He's stationed aboard the ammo ship "Mauna Loa" which shuttles back and forth across the ocean. That's NOT the story. On the last trip, while skimming along the blue, a faulty hoist slipped, banged Len on the side of the head and knocked him overboard. Thanks to some observant fellow seaman who dove into the water the unconscious Len was rescued — none the worse for wear.

WORRIED, WORRIED — Lotsa city folks wondering whose head might roll (this column May 15). Instead of asking us, ask those in the know. Or perhaps they've changed their minds (at least for awhile)?

IT'S NOT LIKELY that Daly City will reach accord on that underground BART station in the city. We understand the city has sent a letter to BART president James Doherty pleading their case: Underground and improved traffic patterns. With the latest law suit against BART (in Berkeley) it's equally unlikely they will agree to spend the additional sums needed to hide the station, Stalemate!

AND GOOD OLD Jim Grealish introduced Congressman Pete McCloskey at the Armed Forces Day dinner in Daly City the other p.m. And neither is that the story! To refresh your memories, Grealish was campaign chairman for Shirley Temple Black when she ran against . . . you guessed it.

THE INTERCOM, a county school newsletter, tells us only 48 parents of fourth, fifth and sixth graders asked their kids be excused from watching the new instructional "Time of Your Life" series on the Tube which telecast its last episode into the Birds and Bees on May 13. As a result of this series some parents have started shouting down the sex education program in the schools. What took them so long to start shouting? If they had shut off the tube in their living rooms and attended a few lectures and asked questions when the thing was first proposed (like a lot of people did) perhaps there wouldn't be such a rhubarb now.

For one thing, the TV series IS NOT the complete family life program as being taught in schools. The school room teachings (that we've seen) are interesting — and far less frank than those on TV. Parents are being asked to contact their respective district school supers if they have questions.

Troubled Teen-ager

FROM A TROUBLED TEENAGER I received a letter in response to something I wrote.

"Mr. Chandler," he wrote — why doesn't anyone think about my troubles? I'm white and 16. My father has to keep a wife and five children and grandma on a moderate salary."

"He says, I have to find a job this summer, but every where I apply turns me down because they are giving the jobs to the minorities and underprivileged."

One man told me that he'd go to a boys' camp if he was me — but Dad says the fee is just enough to pay the increased car insurance."

"Every day during the summer, I lay around home and get into trouble. If I walk down to the shoppingc enter, I get suspected of being a big juvenile.

"I hate summer — no job, no peace, nobody cares — I'm not a minority — just an average American kid."

"I'd rather go to Vietnam — at least I'd be doing something."

Yours truly,
signed (Bill)

You are not forgotten, Bill, your country and your school does provide some help for you.

YOUR SCHOOL PARTICIPATES in an activity entitled, "Work Experience — Education Program." The representative of this program is Joseph Hubachek. Each week he comes to the high school you attend and talks to students who want jobs or students who have jobs and want to receive school credit for their work experience.

With the information he receives from you, the Work Experience Program tries to help you find summer employment. Many students are being placed through this program.

The Work Experience Program will continue its activities all summer long. It is located in Thornton High School, 1st Avenue and Castle Avenues in Daly City. Mike Orlich is in charge.

In Daly City you might check with the Information and Referral Center at 6634 Mission Street. This program is sponsored by the San Mateo Office of the Human Relations Commission.

In San Francisco there are two offices of the Youth Opportunity Center that may be able to help you — 1748 Market and 2348 Mission Street.

Even with all this help you must remember that summer jobs are scarce. Presently the Youth Opportunity Center has 12,000 applicants for 3,000 jobs.

Still you do not need to be idle. There is an agency that finds volunteer work for many high school students. These are jobs in such places as hospitals, museums, and with handicapped and old people.

While they may not pay any money, they provide valuable experience, references that are respected every where, and a sense of using your time in performing a service for fellow human beings and for your country.

To register, call the Community Service for Student Volunteers at 750 Eddy Street. The telephone number is 885-6574 or at 119 Primrose in Burlingame — phone 342-0801.

The counselors will arrange to interview you and after the interview will endeavor to place you.

Bill, there is no need to be idle and less need to be indignant. America still does her best to provide for her people.

'Caught in the Act'

While ACT is broadening its scope of action with its first satirical revue. "Caught in the Act," which opened last night at Marine Theater, there is bad feeling in the company over typecasting. It seems there is little opportunity for certain actors to broaden their individual scope.

Ruth Kobart, now ending her second season with the celebrated company, is an audience favorite for her flamboyant and humorous roles in "Thieves Carnival," "Torch Bearers," "Tartuffee," and "American Dream." But they're all in a comic vain paralleling her film role in "How to Succeed in Business Without Even Trying."

"There is no time in this company's schedule for big stretches, with the exception of Kitty Winn being given the opportunity of a big role in 'Misanthrope' completely different than anything else she's ever done. We all seem to get cast in those roles Bill Ball is sure we can do and do well. It doesn't make for a happy situation, especially in the way we're told.

"Some of us have mutual consent clauses in our contracts, meaning we can refuse to do a particular role. I haven't exercised it yet but my contract is up in August and it's no secret that I'd like to do some film work. If I would have been given the chance to do something dramatic for a change, like 'Long Day's Journey Into Night' or 'Dear Liar' I'd feel differently but there just isn't any opportunity to grow or expand."

The actress joined the San Francisco company after playing leading roles on Broadway and with the New York Opera Company. She's currently rehearsing for another comedy role in a parody of "Tiny Alice" called "Big Gertrude" and a takeoff on Julia Child for "Caught in the Act." And she admits to being tired, not only of the typecasting but of the "constancy of performing."

'I don't miss New York and it's a good time for me to be away because there is nothing on Broadway I could do, except maybe Vera Charles in 'Mame.' There might be roles in the coming season I could do, but I'm not interested in going back yet." Many others in the company have left to accept stage and film opportunities. There has been considerable turnover since the company began last year.

"You could get spoiled by San Francisco audiences because you've got them in their seats, they're willing to listen and enjoy. They give you a chance, whereas in New York, audiences have a 'show me' attitude.

"Repertory has spoiled me for long runs. But frankly the repertory pace is tiring. It would be for anyone over 20 years of age. Along with performing in three and four shows at one time, I take jazz and tap dance classes, study voice with Robert Weede and rehearse. There are some people that make my life look like a dream, Harry Frazer, for instance, who was playing in six to eight shows at a time."

What do her New York acting friends think of such a schedule? "They envy me."

Richard Eastham has temporarily torn himself away from Ethel Merman to take over Howard Duff's leading role in "The Girl In The Freudian Slip" currently at the Alcazar-On-Broadway.

He's the only actor who she'll play opposite in "Call Me Madam" and they've just completed five weeks in Ft. Lauderdale and Miami Beach, Florida. It is the same show that played last year at Circle Star Theater.

"Ethel loves that show but its end is near. The writers updated it from Truman to the Johnson era but it can't stand another administration. She's gone off with her two grandchildren for a month's rest in the Virgin Islands. Her son Bob Six married ACT actress Barbara Colby so she could show up in San Francisco at any time to visit them."

Old City Hall Now New Courts Building

By WILL E. THOMAS

Daly City's old City Hall on Wellington Avenue officially became Northern District Municipal Court, Department 1, Thursday.

Former Daly City Councilman Robert St. Clair, once a San Francisco 49er great and now a San Mateo County supervisor, formally "presented" the completely rennovated building to the courts.

Judge Charles Becker of Daly City, the senior North County municipal jurist, moved his bench from the county courts building in South San Francisco, presiding over the first case in the newly decorated and furnished former Daly City Council chambers on Tuesday.

The two-story building, dedicated as the City Hall in 1939, also houses two deputy district attorneys, William W. Larsen and Ralph Groom; two county probation officers, sheriffs deputies who serve as baliffs, and the judge's chambers.

The "presentation," of which Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett was master of ceremonies, started shortly before 11:30 a.m.

St. Clair, who "spent many long nights in this room" as a councilman, pointed out that the court quarters, which cost some $30,000 to have re-done by county workers, were only temporary.

He described the facility as "well overdue" and a "real big step in closing the gap between the county and Daly City.

St. Clair emphasized shirt sleeves must be kept "rolled up" and all efforts "pooled to speed the construction soon of a permanent building to house not only courts, but other county agency branch offices and local district school administrators.

St. Clair said he really didn't "know the rules of presenting a building," so he said simply, "I present the building to the judges."

Judge Becker, who chose to sit in one of the jurors' chairs rather than the high-backed judge's seat, explained the purpose of the new court was to "render proper and necessary service and justice to the citizens of Daly City."

He invited residents and officials alike to "come see us."

Also speaking briefly was Paul Hupf, former Daly City councilman and City attorney, now Municipal Court Presiding Judge in South San Francisco.

Others present included Bill Sweeney, son of Judge William Sweeney Sr., Daly City's first jurist; members of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors; County Mgr. Robert Stallings, Superior Court Judge Frank Blum, former city attorney for Daly City, who has been assigned to the new Superior Court in South San Francisco, to open in Judge Becker's old courtroom in late July; Daly City councilmen and top municipal officials; and other county and Daly City area dignitaries, including county Bar Association representatives.

In addition to the courtroom ceremony, a special luncheon at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club featured talks by Councilman Frank Pacelli, Ildo L. Rosellini, president of the San Mateo County Bar Association; Don Monson, president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, and several of the jurists and municipal officials who had roles in the earlier presentation rites.

'Diabetic Ice Cream'

Because of the many questions raised concerning ice-cream advertised as "diabetic" or "dietetic," or made especially for diabetics, the following information has been supplied by the National Better Business Bureau.

The Committee on Food and Nutrition of the American Diabetes Association has expressed its disapproval of the advertising of products as made especially for diabetics or for those on a restricted sugar diet. The reason for this disapproval is that readers of such advertising often assume that they can eat as much of these products as they please without taking into consideration the rest of their diet.

It appears there is no specific standard for "diabetic" or "dietetic ice-cream." The U.S. Food and Drug Administration's labeling requirements for diabetic foods provide that the label must list all ingredients, the caloric content and quantities or proportions of nutrients in accordance with the regulation for "special" foods. In general, these foods should provide a substantially lower carbohydrate content than similar non-diabetic or non-dietetic foods.

Most dietetic foods are also generally sugarless, low-sugar, low-carbohydrate or artificially sweetened to combat high calorie problems. Therefore, the food and diets employed for dietetic and diabetic purposes are often the same. Both have somewhat less nutritive and caloric value than standard foods of equivalent weight, size or content.

Diabetics have individual requirements according to age, physical structure, type and severity of illness. Thus, the individual may be limited to his or hers total daily intake of carbohydrates (basically sugar and starch) but the American Diabetes Association advises that no specific food other than a restricted diet is necessary.

The ADA reports that a comparison of nutritive food value (carbohydrates, protein and fat) of standard ice-cream and so-called diabetic ice-cream often reveals the differences to be so small as to challenge the usefulness of the product.

A diabetic may eat standard ice-cream assuming the total daily carbohydrates ingested comes within the levels prescribed by the physician. This is made possible by interchanging foods or dishes and meeting the over-all requirements or limits.

MOST UNUSUAL DOOR PRIZE? — Wish we could've seen the faces (gleeful, betcha) of two Vista Mar P-TA fashion show guests last week in Daly City.

Mrs. Arlene Lowe disclosed (to us, not the guests, you better believe) just before the event that "surprise" (an understatement) door awards were to be two alligators, donated by the Westlake Pet Shop.

In that regard, Mrs. David Parker holds the distinction (?) of being the only Vista Mar P-TA officer (p'haps the only N. County P-TA member?) who can claim, for conversational purposes, to have been nipped by an alligator.

While visiting at the Lowe home, where one alligator made an aquarium his home, Mrs. Parker lost a small piece of finger flesh. Moral: Never try to pet an alligator. Particularly if he smiles first

DICK HALL, who's always looking for a way to make a buck or two (but usually loses a few at it) failed to get the president of the Ford Motor Co. to enhance his Edsel auction set for Saturday (1 p.m.) at Wilson Jeep on Mission Street, Daly City.

Hall is the guy who headed the firm, the now defunct Jolly Jack Uranium Co., that surveyed and posted most of Fort Funston as a mining claim in 1961.

After reading about increased interest of the Edsel as a collector's item (?), Hall thought he had a good thing going . . . went out and bought up a half-dozen or so for resale as "antiques." . . .

It's Hall's way of getting his kicks, I suppose.

SSF Library's Reader Search

Library Administrator Dr. Robert S. Alvarez has announced a survey for a proposed new service at the South San Francisco Public Library, designed to reach those who cannot come to the library because of illness, age, lack of transportation or have small children at home.

The library staff, exploring the need for such a service, is seeking names, addresses and phone numbers of those who would like additional information. The interests of reading materials, records and films of these people would be most helpful "if we can hear from those interested before we attempt to organize some method or system or consider various means of delivery," Alvarez said.

"Many people are not aware of the services their local library provides," according to Alvarez. "Current services include an excellent collection of fiction and non-fiction; a large paperback collection, fiction and non-fiction; art, approximately 250 pictures, framed and unframed, which may be borrowed and hung at home for one month, more than 200 subscriptions of top periodicals and a fine collection of classical and popular records."

Contract Let In Daly City

The Daly City Council awarded a contract for installation of an air conditioning system for the Communications Center at the civic center to low bidder C. S. Hardeman, Inc., during their regular meeting last night.

Of the five companies submitting bids on the project Hardeman was lowest with $6,855.

Supervisors Seek Flood Control as Joint Effort

County supervisors and South San Francisco councilmen last week reaffirmed their position that the entire Colma Creek drainage area, and not just South San Francisco, must share the burden of relieving flooding conditions in Francisco Terrace.

Both Board Chairman James Fitzgerald and Mayor Frank Bertucelli indicated at an informal luncheon in South San Francisco that they still feel Daly City, Colma, and San Bruno should participate in a Colma Creek Flood Control District.

Officials from adjacent cities have balked at the idea of contributing to the relief of South San Francisco's flooding problems in the past, according to Bertucelli, even though subdivision developments in the neighboring cities have made the situation progressively worse because of added run-off.

Wants to Tie In

"We have a situation now where the city of Colma is seeking to tie into our sewerage treatment plant," Bertucelli said, "and as far as I'm concerned, we are not going to allow this until Colma rejoins the flood control district."

Supervisors set up a Colma Creek Flood Control District several years ago, but the project died because of lack of participation.

Discussing possible ways of speeding work on the city's flood control effots, both the supervisors and council members said they feel the current Army Corps Engineers projection of "seven or eight years" before completion of their project is unsatisfactory.

"We simply cannot wait that long," Bertucelli said.

Supervisors suggested calling a bond issue election such as the one held last month in San Bruno, but the city officials said they feel such an effort would fail in South San Francisco, as it did in San Bruno.

"The difficulty lies in the fact that the people who live in higher areas do not want to contribute to solving the problems of those in the low-lying areas, even though they contribute to the problems," the mayor said.

City Attorney John Noonan suggested the city and county should consider supporting a "legislative representative" in Washington to lobby for federal assistance in flood control efforts.

"Since this is, in fact, a regional problem, I think we would be justified in providing our congressman some assistance in his efforts to obtain federal help," Noonan said.

FBI Jails 2 No. County Men in Bank Kidnaping

A Pacifica pipefitter and a San Bruno printer were arraigned in San Francisco court Thursday and charged with kidnapping and bank robbery.

Thomas William Taylor, 35, 951 Monterey Drive, San Bruno, a printer with the Redwood City Tribune and Robert Miles Knox, 34, 543 Beaumont Boulevard, Pacifica, were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Richard S. Goldsmith. They were held in lieu of $75,000 bail each.

They were arrested at their homes early yesterday by FBI agents who said a third suspect is being sought. The men are charged with holding a Sonoma county bank manager and his family hostage before forcing the manager to open a vault from which they took 133,957.60.

The complaint charges that Taylor, Knox and a third suspect surprised Robert Aldrich, manager of the Forestville office of the Bank of Sonoma County when he and his family drove up to their Forestville home shortly after 11 p.m. on September 5, 1967.

All three men were masked. The family was handcuffed and held as hostages all night in the home until the time lock on the bank clicked off. One man then guarded the family while the other two took Aldrich to the bank and forced him to open the vault.

The family was then released unharmed. An old model Buick, used as the getaway car was found shortly after the kidnapping said the FBI. It had been stolen in San Francisco.

The third man sought in the case was identified as Paul Eugene Lape, 39. Authorities said Lape escaped from a Susanville prison camp in 1966.

Knox, who denied knowing Lape, asked the commissioner at the arraignment, "until they decide they have the wrong man, who is going to take care of my family?"

$333,000 Awarded Air Crash Orphans

Award of $333,000 to two South San Francisco children whose parents died in a plane crash in Japan two years ago was approved Thursday by Superior Judge J. A. Branson.

The compromise settlement had been worked out by attorney Alfred E. Graziani of Belmont in negotiations with the Boeing Aircraft Company and British Overseas Airways Corporation.

The children are Glenda Louise Freestone, 11, and her brother, Reginald, 9, who live with their grandmother, Mrs. Christina Hines, at 206 Arroyo Drive, South San Francisco.

Documents filed with the court more than a year ago showed that the children got more than $250,000 each from the estate of their parents, most of it represented by $440,000 in trip insurance taken out just before the ill-fated flight.

HANAU, Germany — Joseph F. Brooks, son of Mrs. Robbie L. Brooks, 227 Madrone Street, Redwood City, was promoted to Army specialist five April 20, while assigned to the 3rd Armored Division in Germany.

Murderer Of Secretary Given Life

The murderer of Congressman Leo Ryan's secretary in Sacramento has been sentenced by the same jury which convicted him.

John Salaber Jr., 19, Sacramento, faced life imprisonment today following the conclusion of his penalty trial in Alameda County court.

A jury of six men and six women, which last week convicted him of the beating murder of the assemblyman's secretary, ordered the life sentence after three hours of deliberation.

Mrs. Miriam H. Martin, 41, a secretary to Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-South San Francisco, was beaten to death January 21 during a burglary of her North Highland home.

Another youth, Gregory L. Sinclair, 19, is scheduled to go on trial in Sacramento Wednesday on charges of being an accomplice in the crime. Salaber's trial was transferred to Alameda County at the request of his defense attorney.

Superior Judge William Brailsford said he would formally sentence Salaber June 6 after studying probation reports.

Hot Dogs Taken; Watch On Mustard

The Daly City police department is keeping a watchful eye on the city's bakeries today following the theft of more than 60 pounds of Hot dogs from a delivery truck Thursday.

Mustard and relish distributors have not been warned, as yet, a department spokesman said.

Police said an unidentified driver for the Heineman & Sterns Meat Company of San Francisco reported he parked his truck in the St. Francis Heights section of the city yesterday afternoon to make a delivery and when he returned to the vehicle he discovered the theft.

Woman, 29, Jailed in Loss Of Furniture

A 29-year-old Daly City woman has been accused of taking furniture and personal goods from a neighbor.

Arrested by Daly City Patrolman Bill Moeller after a three-hour investigation was Jaqueline Reed of 2121 Junipero Serra Boulevard, Apt. 1.

She has been charged with burglary and possession of stolen goods, a police department spokesman said.

Officer Moeller was assigned to the case after the victim, Sandra Garcia of Apt. 2, 2121 Junipero Serra, complained at 5:20 p.m. that her household furniture and personal items of clothing had been taken from her apartment.

Move To Quash With Indictment

A motion to quash the indictment against former Mayor Dale E. With of Brisbane was made in Superior Court last week by his attorney, Clarence Knight.

The lawyer contended that With was actually indicted on a misdemeanor charge whereas a grand jury can indict only for felonies.

Judge Melvin E. Cohn asked Knight and Deputy District Attorney William Lanam to file written briefs and continued the case to 4 p.m. May 28.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Applesauce Yum-Yums

Good morning, good cooks.

Ugh. The weather is dreary. How to bring a bit of cheer into your lives is the question before the house? One way would be to find a $20 bill snuggled down in a purse you haven't used for months. Another would be to have your husband call and say he wants to take you to Hawaii for two weeks. Or to have all your kids get "A" in conduct and effort on their report cards.

Since we live in the same world, my response would be the same as yours, "Fat chance."

How about baking a cake from scratch that is really rather simple to make, and the result of your effort is a gem? I'm well aware this is not as appealing a gloom chaser as the first three I mentioned, but we have to tell it the way it is, don't we? So let's stop dreaming and get to mixing and fixing this cake.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
½ cup shortening
1½ teaspoons soda
½ teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, allspice
1½ teaspoons salt
2 Tablespoons cocoa
¼ cup nuts, chopped
½ cup shortening
1½ cups unsweetened applesauce
2 eggs, unbeaten
1½ cups chopped raisins
three-fourth cup nuts, chopped
TOPPING
¼ cup nuts, chopped
2 Tablespoons sugar

Sift the two cups flour, one and one-half cups sugar, one and one-half teaspoons soda, one-half teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, allspice, one and one-half teaspoons salt and two tablespoons soda in a large mixing bowl. Add the one-half cup shortening and the one and one-half cups applesauce. Beat two minutes at medium speed in mixer. Scrape bowl and mixers. Add the two unbeaten eggs and beat two minutes more at medium speed. Next blend in the one and one-half cup raisins and the three-fourth cup nuts and mix thoroughly. Pour into a generously greased tube pan. Combine the one-fourth cup nuts and two tablespoons sugar and sprinkle on top.

Bake in moderate oven 350-degrees for one hour and 25 to 35 minutes.

Applesauce is a wonderful fruit. It is delicious plain and adapts itself to many recipes. This next one combines it with ground meat for a delicious entree. This recipe has traveled around California and been mailed across the country by pleased cooks. Besides being inexpensive and easy to make, it can be made ahead and refrigerated until time to bake. Doesn't it sound charming?

APPLESAUCE MEATBALLS

2 lbs. ground meat
1 medium onion, chopped fine
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
1 cup corn flakes, crushed
1 egg beaten
½ cup applesauce
2 cans tomato sauce

Combine the two pounds ground meat, one medium onion, chopped fine; one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-fourth teaspoon garlic salt, one cup crushed corn flakes, one beaten egg, one-half cup applesauce and shape into small meatballs. Place in a large baking dish. Pour the two cans tomato sauce over all and bake one hour in a 350-degree oven. Serves 6 to 8.

I think I'll continue with recipes using applesauce, some spicy cookies and an apple fluff dessert.

APPLESAUCE COOKIES

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
three fourth cup thick unsweetened applesauce
½ cup nuts
1 cup raisins

Cream the one-half cup shortening and one cup sugar together. Beat the egg, add to creamed mixture and blend well. Sift the two and one-half cups flour with the one teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon each salt and soda, and the one teaspoon baking powder. Add alternately with the three-fourth cup applesauce to the creamed mixture. Be sure to add the flour first and last Add the one-half cup nuts and one cup raisins and mix well. Drop by teaspoons onto well-greased cookie sheet. Bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven, 375 degrees.

APPLE FLUFF

1 package orange gelatin
1 cup boiled water
two third cup cold water
1½ cups applesauce
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
one-eighth teaspoon ground cloves

Dissolve the one package gelatin in boiling water. Add the two-third cup cold water. Chill until very thick. Then whip until fluffy. Fold in the one and one-half cups applesauce, one teaspoon lemon rind, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon and one-eighth teaspoon cloves. Spoon into individual molds or an 8-inch square pan. Chill until firm. Unmold or cut in squares. Serve with a dollop of whipped cream.

SIGH. There was an error in last weeks chicken recipe. The amount of almonds was printed twice. It calls for three-fourth cup fresh mushrooms, sliced. If you made it and didn't add the mushrooms it would be tasty, but the mushrooms make it even better.

It's a good practice to read the amounts and the method before you start a recipe. Then if there's a discrepancy you will note it before you start cooking. You can always call THE POST and check with Beverly. She's willing and able to help you.

After each play the actors went to the different classrooms and discussed the plays and answered any questions the children had. The theatre group ate in the school cafeteria as guests of the Abraham Lincoln P-TA.

Clifford Peterson, the principal, said a parting gift of this type would be far more fulfilling and better remembered than the usual ice cream or popcorn distributed by the P-TA.

THE JEFFERSON SCENE . . .

By Wendy Woolery

Is There Co-Existence?

A high school, a good high school, should offer its students every opportunity to learn about everything it possible can. Mathematics, social sciences, the fine arts are all represented in secondary schools throughout the world.

But is there always a department entitled "co-existence?"

(Co-existence is defined by Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary as ". . . living in peace with each other especially as a matter of policy. . .")

Perhaps a further explanation is needed.

The average middle-class white American knows little or nothing about the American Negro. If, at the age of 14, this average middle-class white American boy or girl goes to an average public school with a 10 per cent enrollment of Negroes, chances are that this boy or girl has been conditioned by his parents that "black is dirty" or "they're equal but different, so stay away."

Here arises the problem prevalent on so many campuses throughout the United States, because of the teachings and feelings of the times and society, the New Generation doesn't have a chance to make up its own mind; minority groups, not just Negroes, are kept under foot.

Jefferson's Student Body could well be called the "melting pot" of Daly City because of the diversity of the enrollment. Along with many different races being represented in the students, the faculty boasts Italian, Negro, Irish, Japanese, German, Spanish, and English stock, if not many more.

WE BOAST a Human Relations Committee founded to alleviate the problems of such a melting pot. But this organization has become stymied in the mish-mash of field trips to Hillcrest, etc.; it has ceased to function in its originally intended capacities. Growing impatience of the Negro race, in particular, may make any future "peace negotations" rough. Consequently a few concerned students have give up time and trouble to start a "Black Students Cultural Society."

The president of this new organization is a senior, Ronald Williams. Ronald has received co-operation from some members of the Black Students Union at San Francisco State and Ike McClanahan, who has consented to be the advisor. McClanahan himself graduated from State. Donna King, a junior, has been elected vice president and Verdell Lovings, also a junior, is secretary.

WHEN ASKED of the actual purpose of the group, Ron said that they will try to educated the average middle-class white American boy and girl about black culture. One of their long-range plan is to stage an all-black play of production, dealing with the Negro and his role in history.

The first program of its kind in this area was given by the Negro History Club of Sequoia High School in Redwood City.

A point stressed emphatically in the planning of this organization was that the membership would be open to any race, color, or background. This policy even further carries out the ideology of such an undertaking.

Along with the Black Cultural Society, Negro history classes will be taught at Jeff, starting in September. They will be semester classes, offered during both semesters. The teacher probably will be Robert Newell, who has a social science minor from State. Latin American history will also be taught on the same basis, possibly by a student teacher from San Francisco State.

SIX WEEKS of concentrated efforts and learning paid off for 35 girls.

Nearly 50 girls had been screened to find the "best" cheerleaders, pep girls, mascots who would then be eligible to try-out in front of the student body for the coveted positions of cheerleader, pep girl, or mascot.

They all were judged on their form, presentation, cleanliness of appearance, and spirit.

The results were:

PEP GIRL — Chris Tabucchi, Monita Limon, Roberta Christian, Pam Johnson, Madlyn Norman, Gloria Richards, Linda McCortney, Pat Fongaroli, Verdell Lovings, Diane Gloerer.

J. V. CHEERLEADER — Portia Jackson, Jenine Tardelli, Debbi Brusa, Lynn Gradwoh, Janet Vollers, Emily Montalvo, Joanne DiPego, Paula Parker, Barbara Lindsey.

MASCOT — Jasmin Flores, Jocelyn Rogers, Elaine Murillo.

SERRAMONTE CHEERLEADERS — Barbara Elliott, Karen Foster, Karen Phillips.

Election will choose five pep girls, four varsity cheer leaders, three varsity cheerleaders, and one mascot.

THE SENIOR TEA will be held today at 2 p.m. in the cafeteria, sponsored by the junior class and the P-TA.

It will be an oriental atmosphere, themed "Sayonara, Seniors."

There will also be a fashion show, and the fashions will be from Grodins or Stonestown.

The models, all from the junior class, are Sue Bisordi, Gail Harada, Mara Harrigan, Barbara Thompson, Verdell Lovings, Candy Gillett, Gloria Richard, Odell Ellis, Glenda Jones, Annette Montoya, Gail Smallwood, Kathy Breckon, Gloria Tanchoco, Joyce Chan, and Sheila Watkins.

Some of the hostesses are Monita Limon, Lillie Abram, and Wendy Woolery.

T.N. Fashion Show

AT TERRA NOVA May 16, the Home Economics Department presented the annual P-TA Fashion Show in the T.N. cafeteria. Preceding the show, former Pacifica mayor Grace McCarthy installed new officers in the P-TA.

Theme for the fashion show this year, "Spring Glow," was well defined by bright springy decorations, and beautiful fashions made by girls in the clothing classes.

General chairman of the show, Geri Reynolds, with the decorations committee, transformed the T.N. cafeteria into a beautiful setting to welcome spring, in flowers of pink, yellow, blue, and green. Centerpieces at each table were bright tissue paper bouquets on white paper doilies, made by members of the Girl's Athletic Association.

Commentors for the fashions were Linda Carlton, Linda Price, Geri Reynolds, and Kathy Paymiller. Background music was provided by Gil Anda on the piano, Dave Tisdale on the drums, and Bernadete Kuhlman on the bass fiddle. Foods classes at T.N. provided cheese cake for refreshments.

TERRA NOVA'S GIRLS' P.E. Department head and instructor, Mrs. Phyllis Cox, has proposed to develop a teacher's aide program as a part of the regular P.E. class or as an elective. The purpose, she says "is to provide girls interested in a career in education an opportunity to teach others."

Since few college education programs allow actually getting into the classroom until the graduate year, Mrs. Cox feels that this is an opportunity to help students decide whether or not teaching is really the field they want to enter.

THE TEACHER'S AIDE assists the certified teacher throughout the year in planning and executing the class. The teacher makes available her unit plans, lesson procedures, trains the aide in planning activities and administering.

Qualifications would be:

1) to be a senior, 2) have at least one specialty (gymnastics, a team sport, aquatics, etc.), 3) be in an accelerated class, 4) be planning a career in some phase of teaching after college.

This year Mrs. Cox has had two teacher's aides, Donna Van Sickle, and Marilyn Williard, both planning careers in physical education. In order to fit the Teacher's Aide Program into their schedule, they have had to forfeit their own P.E. period. Both of these girls, however, have voluntarily been coming after school to work on their specialty.

For next year, some girls enrolled in the teacher's aide program have requested taking their own P.E. period, and devoting an elective period for the Teacher's Aide Program. Thus, the student could develop her own skills as well as experiencing the teaching situation.

as mayor in 1962, and was vice mayor during several periods.

A native of Italy, Cortesi was a railroad man in Washington prior to moving to South San Francisco. He was a butcher in South San Francisco's meat packing plants for several years, then opened a grocery and market on South Airport Boulevard. He operated the market until his retirement from business a few years ago.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli, a long-time friend and council associate of Cortesi, ordered the city's flags flown at half staff, and praised the former councilman as "a venerable leader, and a friend of the little man."

"We will miss him very much," Mayor Bertucelli said. "He did a good job, and he fought hard for the people he loved."

"The veteran councilman surely will be missed by many of his friends. He worked very hard for the people. He was an institution in South San Francisco politics. His life was over when he left the city council," said Assemblyman Leo Ryan, who had served with him for five years on the council.

Survivors include his wife, Johanna; a son, Leo Cortesi; a daughter, Mrs. Lena Benfield; four grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Westmoor Spirit In Top Form

Kicking off a new season of sports next fall will be the 1968 Westmoor football team but they won't go far unless the newly elected cheerleaders and pompon girls are there to cheer them on.

Dancing their way to the first game of the season are five girls who were elected as pompon girls. They are Pat Guillen, Barbara Samuelson, Lisa Kaplan, Kathy Kaplan, and Heide Barker. The pompon girls' job is to perform routines to music at rallies, games and other school activities. These girls usually spend two or more afternoons a week practicing.

Watching over the younger cheerleaders is one of the responsibilities of the varsity cheerleaders. Setting up for rallies and cheering at all the games will keep newly elected Debbie Ednoff, Pam Sousa, Barbara Herring, Wendy Sparks, and Suzy Wu busy between their homework ,and school. Also, they will be practicing two afternoons a week to improve old cheers and learn new ones.

Frosh-soph cheerleaders carry out the same activities as the varsity except that at times they both lead and are the rooting sections for the fresh-soph teams.

WESTMOOR STUDENTS Candy Sousa and Nina Liston have been awarded Henry A. Jastro scholarship for a even week summer session at the University of California at Davis to work in agricultural or environmental sciences.

Selected from a broad range of high school applicants, the Junior girls will live tuition free, with meals and board provided for. They will each attend an orientation program on July 13 and be assigned to a university professor who will act as advisor during their stay. Candy and Nina will assist a research professor in either agricultural or environmental science. They will be supervised by their professors and work under his guidance. Library privileges and recreation facilities will be open to the girls.

The scholarships, founded by Henry A. Jastro, are awarded to high school juniors showing interest and ability in the specified areas. Candy, daughter if Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sousa, 361 BelMar Avenue, finds biology and the study of life particularly important. She plans to be a bio-chemist.

Active in school affairs, Candy has recently been elected Rally Commissioner for the upcoming semester. Nina Liston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris A. Liston of 12 Elmwood Drive prefers environmental science. A member of the California Scholarship Federation, Nina relates that her ambitions lie in an area where she can combine her artistic talents and her interest in architecture.

The Jastro scholarship has not been awarded to a Westmoor student in the past three years. Last recipients were Brad Hansen and Mike Schackleford in 1965.

ENORMOUS red, yellow, pink and purple flowers and a rooster pinata transformed Westmoor's cafeteria May 16 into a Mexican cantina for the annual San Mateo County Schools Food Service Association's banquet, which carried out the Mexican theme with its menu of enchiladas, Spanish rice and Mexican corn.

The purpose of the dinner meeting was to install new officers and honor the cafeteria staffs at all the high schools. Fred Goodell, assistast superintendent for finances of the Jefferson Union High School District was presented with a book of favorite recipes of the Food Service members, since Mr. Goodell is rumored to be an enthusiastic amateur chef.

A dance program presented by Westmoor girls' physical education department served as entertainment for the evening. The program featured Swedish gymnastics routines. Girls dressed in wild-colored Bermuda shorts and white blouses performed under the guidance of Miss Barbara Bosio.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Scotty Campbell's Own Recipe for Prime Rib

SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S Peninsula "foodmark," with Mary Lou Francis and Theresa and Bud Urban at the dining helm, has established a national name for prime rib, steaks and spare ribs. With the consent of Mary Lou, Bright Lights would like to pass along their recipe for prime rib of beef (serves 10 persons): "Order a 15-pound prime rib of beef with the fat cover left on. Lift flap and season with two tablespoons black pepper, three tablespoons Accent and five tablespoons salt. Close flap and tie with string three times around and once lengthwise. Place in pan fat side up and roast in 350 degree oven until meat thermometer registers 140 degrees, about four hours. Do not use water in pan; roast prime ribs dry. At the end of roasting time you will have a choice of medium, medium rare and rare. Serve with juice of meat or make gravy."

ONE OF THE WEST'S greatest "All you can eat" food spreads is now available mid-day at San Mateo's Black Angus Chuck Wagon, which is now open for lunch seven days a week from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Chef James Pearce is pleased to report a big response to the luncheon idea, which is priced at an amazing $1.40. Return to the bountiful buffet for seconds, thirds or even fourths. New dinner hours are 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. . . . Nomination for the world's strongest teeth go to Louis Gundunas of the Balkan Village. Each night he does "his thing," which is a Greek Table Dance. He holds the fully-set table with his teeth only, as the bouzouki orchestra beats out the rhythms of Greece and the Middle Eastern countries . . . In an area famous for fine hotel and motel accommodations, the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in downtown San Mateo rates with the best when it comes to comfortable lodging, particular dining, cocktails and fine banquet facilities.

LOVELY HELEN HART, well-known organist and pianist who has previously appeared at the Fairmont and Jack Tar Hotels, and with the Art Norkus Orchestra at A. Sabella's on Fishermans Wharf, currently presides at the fabulous Chamberlain organ on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the lounge of the New Southern restaurant, South San Francisco. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Bell, owners of San Mateo's Skylark restaurant, will be missing from the local dining scene for a few days. While they enjoy a well-deserved vacation in New York, their sons, Jim and Jerry, are "minding the store." . . . Fred Masberg, general manager of Millbrae's King's Bowl, has two top notch people managing the Blue Peacock segment of the operation. In the kitchen, chef Bill Marsh does most of the menu planning and actual cooking, while Lou Dapelo oversees the smooth-running bar operation in the adjacent lounge.

ALEXI'S ZORBA'S new supperclub manager, Paul Saridakis, invites one and all to enjoy a special full course dinner, which is served from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday for only $3. "This is one way to acquaint folks with our excellent cuisine," explained Paul the other evening. "And if you have a hankering to learn some Greek dance steps, we have also arranged to give free dance instructions on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m." . . . Now that Bruno's of San Mateo rates as one of the most popular restaurants on the Peninsula, the enterprising owners, Bruno Fava and Tom Zucchelli, are making definite plans for expansion. Rumor has it that they are forming their own corporation, and that their next business site has already been decided on.

LARRY BERTOLUCCI and his beautiful sister, Lola Bogdan, owners of South San Francisco's famous Bertolucci's restaurant, are preserving a cherished Bay Area dining tradition dating back to 1928. Since that time, Mama Bertolucci's old-fashioned Italian cuisine and, in particular, her Cannelloni, have been dining musts for out-of-town visitors and localites alike. . . . The Fork 'n' Cork's "Crystal room" is now well established as one of the most elegant banquet facilities on the Peninsula. The creation of co-owners Elma and Anton Mendola, the room seats up to 70 persons and is suitable for almost every type of business and social function. Excellent outside catering service is also provided. . . . Sultry vocalist Jo Ann Roe has gathered a large following of fans in the intimate Chez Michel lounge of the Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae. Also showcased in the lounge nightly, Tuesday through Sunday, is the Cava Combo, featuring Al Cava.

Lola Bogdan

WILBUR STUMP, the "gypsy" piano bar entertainer who travels about more cocktail lounges than your Bright Lighter, announces that his latest "sit in" is Nero's Nook in the plush Palo Alto Cabana Hotel. Appearing from 5:45 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, it's a good idea to see and hear him soon — his next shift could be Petaluma. . . . Only USDA Choice meat is served at Millbrae's Heap Big Beef restaurant. Specializing in Roast Beef Sandwiches, manager Tom Hickey offers two sizes — the regular 69 cent sandwich and a gigantic double serving for $1.09. Featured also are French fries and a wide variety of drinks, including the Heap Big Beef's very own "Indian-aide." . . . Yadi Parangi, handsome night manager at the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, personally greets all patrons entering the luxurious Royal Hall dining room. Assistant to Claude Schroeder for over a year, Yadi also oversees the evening banquet operation.

"Meet The Manager Week" At Foster's

Will have a special announcement to make about Foster's Original Pancake and Chicken House in next Friday's Bright Lights column. Manager Jim Smith and his two able assistants, Wilfred Caldwell and Margaret Shinault, are planning a "Meet the manager week." Nuf said for now—more next week. If you're a buttermilk pancake fancier, make Foster's one of your dine out stops.

Pretty Jeanette Cargil and her partner, who won last Wednesday night's dance contest at the Hi-Fi Room South, will soon be enjoying a stay in Las Vegas, compliments of lounge owners Joe Borges and Ben Muniz.

A new contest policy is now in effect: Instead of deciding on a winning couple, the judges will pick only the best male and the best female dancers participating. Cash prizes will be awarded winners.

Charlie Gleason's Now Golden Steer

The same good food and intimate atmosphere prevail at the Golden Steer restaurant on Woodside Road in Redwood City, formerly known as Charlie Gleason's, announced co-owner Jim Althoff. Only the name has been changed. Manager Boyd Ashcraft invites you to try the specialty of the house — an eight-ounce top sirloin steak dinner from choice Blue Ribbon beef — and only $2.95. Piano bar entertainment from 8:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

May 29 "D" Day For S.F. Nitery

San Francisco will soon have a spectacular new theater restaurant to rival the most luxurious pleasure places in Las Vegas. Judging by the flood of reservations pouring in for the Bobby Darin show opening May 29 at Mr. D's, San Francisco can hardly wait. Mr. D's will headline the biggest stars in show business in Northern California's largest showroom, a plush, terraced room that offers a "ringside view" from every seat in the house. Darin toplines nightly except Monday, May 29 through June 8. For reservations, phone 434-2444.

"FIRESIDE FLAMES" — The sparkling Diamond Jim and His Karats are now headlining the action-packed show at Jack McRae and Phil Maita's rockin' Fireside Lounge in San Mateo. Featured also seven nights of the week are Topless Tori; Tamara, "The Bedroom Girl"; vocalist Kaye Mario and Bonnie Parker, "The Gun Toten Gal." A highlight of an evening's entertainment at the Fireside is the provocative "Dance of Love," which is performed in "living color."

Russell Reed Finocchio's 395 Pounds of Fun

Russell Reed is truly one of the biggest entertainers in show business — all 395 pounds of him. His interpretation of "I Don't Want to Get Thin," in which he vibrates all over the stage, is one of the laugh highlights of the show at Finocchio's. One of the reasons for his physical gyrations, according to Reed, is the fact that he owns an old Model-T Ford which he has faithfully restored to drive in parades.

"The darn thing shakes so much it gave me the idea," said the longtime performer.

Raves galore on the 15 delicious varieties of pizza served in various sizes and combinations at Pete Brallier's three Round Table Pizza Parlor and Pub locations — San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsdale. A wide selection of sandwiches, salads and drinks are also Round Table features — and all items can be packed to go.

One of the many popular features at Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco Marina is Lew's unique table service, wherein everyone on his staff assists the waitress assigned to a table. No saying "Sorry, this isn't my table" at Lew Lehr's.

Recording Star Al Martino Big Bimbo's 365 Hit

Al Martino, who hits the top of the record sales charts, regularly with hits such as "Mary in the Morning" and "Spanish Eyes," is headlining a two-week bill at Bimbo's 365 Theater restaurant. The handsome songstar with the big, marvelous voice, sings his hits plus his latest Capitol platter, "Lili Marlene." Comedians Fisher and Marks are featured in the show presented twice nightly, except Sunday.

"Elegance for less," is the motto at San Mateo's Lamp Post Steak House, where New York steak, for the remarkable price of $1.39, is prepared right before your eyes to taste preference. Included is a baked potato and salad with choice of Blue cheese, Thousand Island or French dressing.

Jack Webb of TV's "Dragnet" had a steak dinner at Phil Lehr's Steakery (a thing he did many times when he worked here as an announcer on KPO radio) when he was back in his old home town for a visit.

No Business Lull At The El Patio

Shelly Llewellyn, gracious hostess-owner of the Menlo Park El Patio Mexican restaurant, says business has never been better. Many sports and political personalities from the lower Peninsula are frequent diners at this exceptional Mexican luncheon and dinner house.

Now that Summer is on the scene, dapper Lucien Sabella reports a banner booking of tourists groups for his lavish A. Sabella's restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf.

MILITARY HONORED—All five branches of the U.S. military services were honored at a dinner-meeting of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce last week at International Joe's Restaurant. Guest speaker was Congressman Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey who flew in for the event from Washington, D.C. Escorting congressman McCloskey (right) to the speaker's chair is Daly City manager Ed Frank (left). Armed Forces Day committee chairman Fred Martin is at right rear. (Post Photo)

McCloskey Wants Draft To Continue

Congressman Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey told an audience of more than 125 business, civic and military leaders attending an Armed Forces Day dinner in Daly City last night that America should continue the draft even during peacetime.

The nation "needs the draft because kids need the training" in order to maintain a strong and constant military force, McCloskey said.

The newly elected Republican Congressman flew in from Washington, D.C., for the speaking engagement which honored all five branches of the U.S. Armed Forces during a Chamber of Commerce sponsored dinner meeting at International Joe's restaurant.

"I'm speaking here tonight as Lt. Col. McCloskey, U.S. Marine Corps Reserve — not as Congressman McCloskey of San Mateo County," he began.

The former Korean War hero, who was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action, cautioned the five representatives of the military services also attending the dinner "not to hate your enemies and don't become bitter."

He said during WWII we fought a bitter battle with Japan with the Chinese as our allies, and less than five years later the Japanese were our allies and the Chinese our enemies during the Korean conflict.

"There is just no room in soldiering to hate your enemies," McCloskey said.

In pointing out that "there should be constant military training" for today's American youth, McCloskey said that "war can come upon us at anytime" and cited the Korean fighting as an example.

"It is a great privilege for anyone to serve in the military," he said, adding that the role of soldiers in any war is "dirty, grubby and no glory."

About the only positive thing that can be said for any war, McCloskey went on, is the fact that few veterans want to return to fighting.

"These veterans usually work toward ending wars," he said.

In a quiet voice, McCloskey informed the guests, "There are only three things asked of you in order to be an American: pay taxes involuntarily; assist in the administration of justice by serving on juries, and, send our young men into the military for two, perhaps three years.

"And when we hear words of condemnation (of the American government system) we should speak out in defense of our country," he concluded.

James V. Grealish, Daly City businessman and a commodore in the Navy Reserve, introduced the military representatives honored at the dinner.

Thieves Hit His Home As Mayor Talks

While Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett paid tribute to five representatives of the nation's armed forces during a dinner Thursday, burglars paid a visit to his Fairlawn Avenue home.

Police estimate the time of the burglary to be sometime between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. about the same time mayor Lycett was informing the audience at the dinner "I feel extremely safe here tonight between Marine Sergeant Herron, Boatswains Mate Dutterer and congressman and former Marine Pete McCloskey."

The mayor left the meeting at approximately 10:45 p.m. and arrived home at 10:55 p.m. He summoned police immediately when he discovered a window pried open and some $200 in jewelry and coins missing.

3 Injured In 3-Car Crash After U-Turn

Three persons were injured in a three-car accident on Junipero Serra Boulevard at Sneath Lane in San Bruno Tuesday when one of the drivers attempted a U-turn.

All were taken to Peninsula Hospital.

Ermelinde Becker, 43, 1517 8th Avenue, San Franicsco, received two fractured legs and cuts and bruises in the crash, accordirg to San Bruno police.

Her daughter, 21-year-old Carla Winona Becker, of the same San Francisco address, was admitted with facial cuts and bruises.

Both women were reported in "satisfactory" condition by hospital sources.

Theodore James Azevedo, 38, of 5141 Elmwood Drive, San Jose, suffered head and leg injuries and was reported to be in "fair" condition in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Police said Azevedo, southbound in the left through-lane of Junipero Serra, started to make a U-turn as he approached Sneath Lane.

Azevedo's car struck the Becker vehicle, northbound on Junipero Serra.

The Becker car then smashed into a car driven by Thomas Barnes Fishel, 42, of 986 Pleasant Hill Road, San Jose, which was stopped for a red signal light on Sneath westbound.

LE PACINI

AUGIE GARRIDO, the new San Francisco State baseball coach, comes with the proper credentials. He played for two seasons with Portland in the Pacific Coast League, during one of which he won the annual Golden Glove award as one of the top defensive outfielders in the minors, and was a .300 hitter in lower minor leagues, where he twice made his league all-star squad.

While at Vallejo JC Garrido was all-conference and twice Most Valuable Player, and at Fresno State, where at one time or another he played every position on the field, he was twice an All-CCAA member, made the District 8 all-star team as a second baseman, and was team captain and MVP.

Only twice in all the history of baseball has a hitter compiled a season's slugging average of .800 or better. Babe Ruth did it both times, and did it in consecutive years! In 1921 his slugging average was .847. It was .846 the following year. Who's the only other batter to ever come even close to an .800 slugging average? You guessed it — Babe Ruth. In 1927, the year he hit his 60 homers, his slugging average was .772.

ONE HOMERUN record which Ruth never had a chance to obtain and which no one else will probably ever have an opportunity to bust, is the one held by Eddie Matthews. He's hit homers in more major league parks than any other player, including New Jersey, the year the Brooklyn Dodgers scheduled several games there. With Robin Roberts — who allowed more homers than any pitcher in history (502) — as an exclusive opponent, Matthews might have broken unimaginable records.

NEW SFS COACH

He's Properly Credentialed

It's lucky for Matthews that he got his licks in when he did, because if you believe statistics, hitters are out, pitchers are in. Compare league statistics just since 1962: last year AL hitters batted for a .236 average, as compared to '62's .255. In '67, junior circuit hurlers had a collective ERA of 3.23. In '62 it was 3.97. The NL read: .261, 3.94 in '62; .249, 3.38 last season. Shutouts in both leagues from '62 to '67 virtually doubled. Run production in the AL dropped approximately 17 per cent, 15 per cent in the NL. It's looks even worse for the hitters this year.

Many officials are suggesting ways to bring back a balance. Some advocate lowering the mound, some say push it back five feet, others say bring back the "old" strike zone. We remember when they were hitting all those homeruns in '61-62 that the same guys were saying, push back the fences, ban the buggy-whip bat, deaden the ball.

There are many reasons given for the hitter's decline, most prevalent among them being the slider (which the batter can't "read" because it doesn't begin it's rotation — unlike the curve — until very late) and the spitball.

WE'RE NOT SO SURE what pitch does the most damage to a batter's ego, but maybe if we knit together a few reports, the Athletics have give us a hint. To accept the conclusion which we will ultimately offer, you must first accept the well-founded theory that a fast ball pitcher has a better chance for a long career than a breaking ball pitcher, because all of that grunting energy displayed for a swifty isn't as bad for the elbow as the jerk that goes into the "break" of a breaking ball.

Next think about the report that the only Athletic pitcher allowed to throw the slider — because Oakland officials believe the slider is bad for the arm — is Catfish Hunter. Now add the underground report that Blue Moon Odom and Lew Krausse of the Athletics have two of the classiest spitballs in the majors. Finally, look at the Athletic team earned run average. Conclusion? It's the spitter, men, the spitter.

If anyone's interested in our solution, to the hitting problem, we'd say put clampers on the size of gloves.

Reduce the sizes of those shovels they call first basemen's mitts, shorten the fingers of the infielder's gloves, shorten them more on outfielder's gloves, and a lot of hits which just don't qite make it now, will start falling in. The good fielders will still come up with the good plays, and the fumblefingers will quit getting lucky.

As you may have noticed, the reduction of hitting has coincided with the production of base stealing. The speedsters are almost as proficient as the old oldtimers you say? They may be much more proficient!

RIGHT AWAY some statistic hunter is going to say, oh yeh, how about Harry Stovey, when he sole 156 in 1888? Or Slidin' Billy Hamilton, of the pre-1900's, who stole more bases during his career than Ty Cobb?

In the era of such base stealers as Stovey and Hamilton, however, stolen bases were awarded to runners who advanced on errors, wild pitches, when they advanced from one base to another on infield outs, outfield flies, and on fielder's choices. If a runner went from first to third on a single, he was credited with a steal of third base.

While we're on the subject of old timers, an old baseball man we were talking to recently has an interesting theory. He says that every often a player out for, say, two weeks with an injury, is really "out" for three or four weeks, because when he gets back into the lineup it takes him another week or two to get back into sharp playing shape. The old timers never had this problem, he says, because with smaller rosters and a different philosophy, they played through their injuries and therefore never really got far out of playing shape. Thus, ironically, while their injuries may have hampered their paly temporarily, the wounds ultimately boosted their personal statistics.

On the other hand, players nowadays don't have to go to such lengths to impress their management. With the pension fund and all of the other frills, they're much less dependent on the good will of their "superiors."

Notice you seldom see, anymore, a really washed up player playing out his string. Remember? It used to be that the old 10-year man would finish up his major league career with the Athletics as a pinch hitter or utility man, come down to an independent Coast League club for a year or two, and then maybe wind up as a player-coach in the California League ... and then obscurity.

AND SPEAKING of the Coast League in those days, when many considered it a third major league, there's a move afoot by some major league owners to create a new third league — as was advocated years ago by baseball men such as Branch Rickey — rather than fool around with the complicated divisional splits inherent in further expansion in the two leagues.

BOLD STARS

TAG END: At last reading, Ray Sadecki, surprise, was second in the National League in strikeouts.

El Camino Wins N.P.L. Despite Loss To HMB

Thanks to Jerry Burke, El Camino High School has a date May 28 in the opening round of the Central Coast Sectional Baseball tournament at Santa Clara's Washington Park.

Burke performed the magnificent for coach Harry Pitkoff's crew last week, batting the Colts to the 1968 North Peninsula League title as Camino downed Jefferson, 4-2, on the winner's crew yesterday, batting the Colts to the 1968 North Peninsula League title as downed Jefferson, 4-2, on the winner's diamond. Burke's two-run single in the third inning and two-run homer in the sixth accounted for all of Camino's runs as Pitkoff and the Colts nabbed their third NPL title in the past six yeas.

"I am extremely happy with my boys," he stated. "They never gave up and it seems as if our defense always had to come through in the final inning to preserve the victory," the jubilant mentor added, noting the many one-run victories the Colts had.

Pitkoff paid homage to the rest of the league by stating that "it was the toughest season I have ever been through."

And again it took a stellar performance by the Camino defense in the final inning, after Jefferson had loaded the bases, to quell the Indian uprising.

Burke's single in the third drove in Dennis Gorman and Frank Lucia, while Lucia was on following a double when Burke crashed out his round tripper in the sixth. Gorman was the winning pitcher, going the distance.

The Colts meet the MPL champ May 28 and then compete in the Marin Tournament of Champions May 30.

In other NPL action, Oceana broke a seven-game losing streak by edging Half Moon Bay 4-3, and South San Francisco blanked Westmoor, 8-0.

Oceana's victory, solidified by Dave Wright's timely single in the bottom of the seventh inning, was particularly pleasing to coach Hal Vaplon as it was the Shark's first NPL triumph in eight games.

Relief pitcher Bob Barnett started off the seventh with a walk. He then stole second, and with no outs, Wright delivered his game-winning single which scored Barnett.

Earlier, the Cougars had tied it up in the top of the seventh inning on Bill Beacock's bases loaded double. Oceana's Bill Lawler had two rbi's for the winners.

In South SF's victory, pitcher Bruce Brian and right fielder Lou Lodigiani teamed up to secure the Warrior victory.

Bruce, son of coach Bob Brian, struck out five while shutting the Rams out on six hits. Lodigiani, who garnered three hits, accounted for three runs batted in for the Warriors.

With the North Peninsula Athletic League baseball season over, as usual there are some coaches who wish the season were just starting and others just as glad it's over and done.

Bob Brian of South San Francisco High School belongs in the former category. His Warriors, by beating Oceana 11-2 Friday on the South City diamond, completed a long pull from last place to third, with no sign of letting up.

"I wish we could play the first half of the season over again," Brian said. "I think we have the best team in the NPL now." His Warriors have gone from 2-6 to 6-6 and a tie for third with Terra Nova, scoring 26 runs in their last three games.

Brian's son Bruce, the Warriors' top hurler, had an 0.69 earned run average and still was only 5-5. He didn't get the support he needed until later in the season.

The Warriors trailed Oceana 2-0 going into the bottom of the fourth. Then the fun started. When it was over, four runs had been scored. The Warriors added seven more in the sixth to finish with an 11-9 over-all mark. Oceana finished league play with a record of 3-9.

The El Camino Colts, who clinched the NPL championship last Tuesday, lost to Half Moon Bay 3-2, but there wasn't much sting to the defeat. The pressure was off for both teams. El Camino was at the top and Half Moon Bay near the bottom. Both coaches cleared their benches to give all their charges a chance to play. The Colts finished league competition at 9-3, the Cougars at 4-7. Half Moon Bay must still play a makeup game with Westmoor as a result of a protested game earlier in the season.

Westmoor dropped Terra Nova into a tie for third place, and with the makeup game have a chance to enter that tie also. If the Rams win that game, they, Terra Nova and South San Francisco will all have finished at 6-6.

As it was, the game was long enough to close out any season. Westmoor tied the score at 3-3 in the bottom of the sixth, when an error on a double steal play scored a run.

Then, in the bottom of the tenth (high school games are seven-inning affairs), Doug Matgen singled to left and stole second. Then shortstop Steve Gilmore dropped a perfect hunt which the pitcher managed to field, but threw away, allowing Matgen to score.

Central Coast Track Meet

The sleepy hamlet of Gonzales will serve as the unlikely site of the Central Coast Section track and field championships next Saturday — the final prerequisite for all San Mateo County athletes who hope to make the coveted California State Meet.

Top three finishers in the CCS Finals will qualify for the State Meet, that pinnacle of prep track competition which will be held at the University of California one week later.

The Region I Finals, which served as a stepping stone to the Gonzales showdown, indicated that San Mateo County may qualify as many as 18 for the State Meet.

Carlmont High School chalked up five firsts, four of which shattered records, and added a second and fifth place to take the team title over Sequoia and the 28 other schols in the CSM-based meet witnessed by more than 2,000 fans.

D.C. Gymnasts Win a Trophy

The Daly City All-Around Gymnasts were awarded the second place team trophy and Miss Paula Dolder was selected as the "Outstanding Athlete of the Day" at Daly City's Pacific AAU District Junior Olympic Gymnastic meet in Daly City. An excellent performance was given by Miss Lori Kaplan who consistently placed second in each of her age group events.

Approximately 80 contestants took part in the meet. The meet was well attended by more than 200 spectators.

Burlingame High Wins MPL Title

A baseball team can't win a league title on desire alone, but Burlingame High School coach Robert Milano figures it must help a lot. And who's to argue, now that the Panthers have clinched the 1968 Mid-Peninsula League baseball championships?

The Panthers scored their 41st run in four games Friday, beating contender Capuchino 6-1 on the Panther diamond. If Burlingame had lost, and loses its last game next week, there could have been a tie for first with San Mateo. Now there's no chance.

"It really feels good to relax," Milano said. No wonder. Burlingame led the race season-long, but San Mateo constantly nipped at the Panthers' heels and toward the end Capuchino began a strong challenge.

But the Panthers never let up. "Those kids just don't stop," Milano said, referring to his team's propensity to scramble for runs in any situation, especially those when there are two out and no-one on base.

Yesterday's game was a case in point. Roger Carmine, Cap's ace hurler, had started off by striking out six, with a double sandwiched in between. Burlingame trailed 1-0 going into the bottom of the third. Then, with two out mind you, John Sarrail singled. And Steve Lucchesi singled.

With runners on first and third, coach Milano called for a double steal — and it worked. Skip Conley was walked intentionally. Tim Oppezzo rapped a single to score Lucchesi, and when Conley tried for third, the throw went awry, leaving runners on second and third. Paul Schmuck followed with a single to drive in both men.

It was reminiscent o fthe time when Burlingame scored nine runs against Aragon this season — with two out.

Panther hurler Bill McKinley struck out three, allowed two walks and gave up seven hits in going the distance. The Panthers now have a 10-1 league mark. Cap, at 6-4, has an outside chance to tie San Mateo for second spot after dropping to third with today's loss.

San Mateo vented its spleen against hapless Crestmoor, bombing the Falcons 16-1. The Bearcats now have second spot all to themselves with one game left to play.

The 'Cats collected 10 solid hits, but Crestmoor's seven errors didn't hurt the cause any, and neither did the nine bases on balls the Falcons gave up.

There was one bright spot for Crestmoor — Bob Forsythe's towering home run well over the 295 foot mark in left field, for the Falcons' only score.

Steve Bissett was the 'Cats lion at the plate, with three hits and four rbi's. San Mateo hurler Barry Sbragia struck out eight, and gave up three walks.

In the other MPL game yesterday, Mills scored five runs in the bottom of the fifth inning and held off a last-inning Hillsdale challenge to down the Knights 6-4 in a game played on the Viking field.

Mark Brosche went the distance to get the win for the Vikings, striking out four and allowing five hits. Rene Durazzo, Paul Sciabica and Pat McFarland were the Vikings' plate standouts.

STREAKING INTO SIXTH PLACE with a mighty leap, is little Debbie Allen of Sharp Park School, under the critical eyes of judges, fellow athletes and "officials" from the Ortega School Boy Scout troup 269. This was how the action went at Terra Nova High School Saturday when the Pacifica Junior Champ Olympics were held. Debbie was on her third try in the Junior Girls' Running Broad Jump. (Post Photo.)

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

THE POST AUTO WORLD

U.S. motor vehicle production last week totaled 251,118 units, the Automobile Manufacturers' Association reported today.

The week's output included 206,909 passenger cars and 44,209 trucks and buses. During the previous week 211,732 cars and 44,850 commercial vehicles were produced, the AMA said.

Cumulative output in 1968 through May 11 totaled 4,178,149 units, including 3,450,695 cars and 727,454 commercial vehicles. In the same period last year, 3,533,217 vehicles were produced — 2,373,291 passenger cars and 659,926 trucks and buses.

Ford Motor Company again this summer will sponsor a "Safe Driving Incentive Program for Young Americans."

Henry Ford II, chairman of the board, announced that more than 1,200 awards — new cars, stereo phonographs and radios — will be given to safe drivers under 25 years of age. The competition is designed to help reduce the number of driving accidents during summer months when young people do a large share of their driving.

Awards for 1968 will include 15 Mercury Montego hardtops, 15 Mustang Hardtops, 100 Philco-Ford portable stereo phonographs, 150 Philco-Ford mini-radio phonographs, and 1,000 Philco-Ford transistor radios.

The program is open to licensed drivers or learner's permit holders residing in the U.S. who will not have reached their twenty-fifth birthday by August 31; who drive without a chargeable accident or moving traffic violation from June 1 through August 31; who make a perfect score on a quiz which tests traffic decision-making ability, and who submit a winning ten-word safe-driving slogan.

Entry forms are available at most Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers and Ford tractor dealers.

Metcalf-Meyer salesmen Dwight Orr, Lloyd Heckman, Edward Boyson and Michael Francesa have gained membership in the exclusive "200 Club," a nationwide organization of outstanding Lincoln-Mercury salesmen. The announcement was made by Frank E. Zimmerman Jr., Lincoln-Mercury Division general sales manager.

Membership in the "200 Club" is limited to only those salesmen whose sales records place them in the top 15 per cent of all Lincoln-Mercury salesmen throughout the country.

Adults who don't wear seat belts when they drive are setting a bad example, an automobile executive reported recently.

Robert B. McCurry, Dodge general manager, said that studies show that most adults . . . especially women . . . are not wearing seat belts when they drive.

He cited a study by the North Carolina Highway Safety Research Center which revealed that 31 per cent of the men and only 18 per cent of the women were using seat belts when they drove.

The study also indicated that people in later model cars — those which have seat belts as standard equipment — are twice as likely to use the belts when they drive.

"People are still following that old, and bad, habit of wearing belts only when they are

RFK Again Visits County

Senator Robert Kennedy took his campaign once again into North San Mateo County today when he greeted workers at the giant American Airlines installation.

The candidate for president was on his way to the San Francisco Press Club for his noon talk when he halted to talk briefly to workers. A big turnout had greeted Kennedy Saturday at the South San Francisco city hall and at the Buri-Buri shopping center.

Barbecuers Have Grills All Fired Up

North American barbecuers are on the move again. This time they are setting up their grills in the garden and on patios after enjoying flavorful cook-ins since last fall.

According to the Barbecue Briquet Institute, sales of charcoal briquets in 1968 are expected to surpass last year's record total of more than 415,000 tons. This is equivalent to filling 10,000 boxcars.

Retailers now stock briquets the year around, another indication that barbecuing is booming.

Spring Cleanup Tips

If the barbecue grill has been stored during the winter, it usually requires oiling of hinged parts and soap and water washing of cooking parts. Experts also advise that the rack should be rubbed before each cookout with bacon rind or a small cloth moistened with cooking oil to keep food from clinging.

Thick steaks, tender roasts, juicy hamburgers, flavorful beeb kabobs and seafoods are cookout favorites. For the ultimate in outdoor-eating pleasure an effective fire is a must.

First, line the fire bowl with heavy duty aluminum foil. Make a fire base for the coals with a commercial barbecue fire base, gravel or similar material. This should be level and at least one inch deep.

Lighting Techniques

Plan to light the fire 30 to 45 minutes before you start cooking. Stack briquets in a pyramid, or put them in a large, open-end can with holes punched one inch from the bottom. Apply lighter fluid. Wait one minute, then light fire. After lighting, don't squirt extra fluid on the briquets. If an electric lighter is used, be sure to follow the manufacturer's instructions.

Use hickory, oak, apple or cherry wood chips to give a special smoke flavor. Soak chips in water for one hour before using. Add a few chips at a time. If they flare up, add more wet chips. Close a hooded grill to retain smoke and to increase the smoke flavor.

Invent Some Parties For Outdoor Grills

POST — HTK

The outdoor grill is the fun center these days. Part of the pleasure for youngsters and oldsters is inventing your own parties.

Any group enjoys an outdoor fish-fry over barbecue briquets. Clean and bone the fish of your choice, sprinkle it with lemon juice and seasoning, and grill in a hinged wire rack. Frozen French fries heated in a loose foil bag and shaken occasionally will round out this "fish bash."

Flowerpot Grill

Ordinarily flowerpots make good outdoor hibachis when you are entertaining the garden club, for example. Line pots with foil and add an inch of gravel or barbecue base. Fill them two-thirds of the way up with barbecue briquets. Top each pot with a cake rack. Guests then can toast their own appetizers, hamburgers or small steaks.

Early Bird Pie

If early bird guests gather on the patio, you can stave off their impatience with a special appetizer "pie." Have a round loaf of bread on hand. Cut it into inch-thick slices. Spread the circles of bread with cheese mix or deviled ham. Toast over barbecue briquets. Cut in pie wedges and serve. The steak or piece d'resistance then can go to sizzle on the grill.

Lunchbox Party

A lunchbox social at the grill is a budget-saver for the high school crowd. Each guest brings a lunchbox or shoebox of foil-wrapped provisions. Hamburgers, franks, cheese, sausage and buns all are easy to grill over barbecue briquets. Boxes can be decorated, initialed and exchanged as a crowd mxier!

Spotlight Is on Dairy Industry in California

Consumer spotlight is on California's vast dairy industry as celebration of the industry's 32nd annual June Dairy Month gets under way. As milk data showing average daily commercial production of milk in California forms new peaks on charts, consumers are urged to show a little more appreciation; give applause to nature's most nearly perfect food.

This should not be difficult since a day without milk and other dairy foods is unthinkable. It is a time for reflecting on the wonders of milk in providing unparalleled nutrition values for every member of the family; a time for considering from whence this bounty comes.

And here we have help from Douglas Fisk, manager of the Dairy Council of California, who thoughtfully puts these figures on our desk.

Supplying milk and its myriad products to California's 19 million plus population begins with our state's super cows, 781 thousands of them. These pampered bovines live in a milk cows paradise on California's close to 5,000 dairy farms. They reward their owners by topping the nation in production of milk per cow.

Newest California record, recently spotlighted, is an average of 11,170 pounds of milk per cow last year . . . the highest in the nation.

This becomes more noteworthy when it is realized that the average American cow produced a mere 8,821 pounds of that good white stuff last year. Runners-up in the milk production marathon are Arizona, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Wisconsin where milk cows also appreciate superior care; established high records. Just by way of comparison, the lowest state which shall remain nameless, only averaged production rate of 4,980 pounds per cow.

Nutritionists of the Dairy Council of California constantly remind consumers that all dairy products are packed with health-giving components: calcium which builds bones and teeth; protein which is essential for growth, body maintenance and life itself; vitamin A, essential for growth, health of skin, hair, nails, tooth enamel, gums eyes; these, among other fine nutrients.

They further point out that we never outgrow our need for milk.

THIS WHIPPED CREAM lovely, Whipped Butterscotch Crunch Cake, was originated and neighborhood-tested by home economists.

Butterscotch Crunch Cake Celebrates Dairy Supremacy

Home economists for the Dairy Council of California originated and neighborhood tested this superb, rich and delicious cake to help celebrate the 32nd anniversity of June Dairy Month. With dairying as our state's number one agricultural activity we have plenty of reasons for celebration. Whipped cream, but of course, goes into this party-size cake for serving 12.

Whip cream until it begins to thicken. Add butterscotch syrup slowly and continue beating until stiff. Blend in vanilla extract. Cut cake into three layers. Spread the whipped cream mixture over each layer and sprinkle with crushed toffee. Frost top and sides with whipped cream mixture and sprinkle top with remaining toffee. Chill at least six hours before serving. If desired, garnish with a few whole strawberries . . . as in our picture.

Item for A Chilly Night

Ripe olive chowder for chilly evenings. Heat together 1 (10½-ounce) can chicken broth, 1 cup milk and 1 (7½-ounce) can corn. Add ½ cup ripe olives cut into halves and ⅛ teaspoon fines herbes. Serve in mugs with toasted and buttered French bread.

Barbecue Boom Seen

Another boom year for outdoor and indoor charcoal cookery was predicted at the annual meeting of the Barbecue Briquet Institute.

More than 70 members and guests were told by the stastistics committee that sales last year topped 1966 by 15 per cent. Total 1967 sales by the industry were almost double that of a decade ago.

To meet the growing demand and popularity of charcoal cookery BBI members reported steps were being taken this year to prevent the market shortage of briquets which developed late last summer.

GOLDEN GATE Fried Cream is a recipe from out of the past . . . a favorite that goes back many generations.

Fried Cream Is Coming Back

A couple of generations ago Fried Cream was quite the rage for serving as a special dessert. Home economists for the Dairy Council of California have brought it up to date and then had it neighborhood-tested to insure results. Neighborhood testers agreed that it was "just about the greatest." Once the "cream" is set it is fried in drawn or clarified butter. Then, if it is drama you are looking for, serve it flaming with warm rum. Recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

5 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ inch stick cinnamon or 1 cardamon seed, crushed
2 tablespoons sherry, rum or milk
2 cups (1 pint) half and half
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 cup finely crushed soda cracker crumbs
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 to 1½ cups finely ground almonds
Drawn butter
Rum for flaming, if desired

In heavy medium saucepan, combine cornstarch, sugar, salt and cinnamon. Stir in sherry; gradually blend in half and half. Bring to boil over low heat, stirring constantly and vigorously. Remove from heat and stir some of the hot mixture into egg yolks. Combine with hot mixture in saucepan and continue cooking 2 minutes longer. Remove cinnamon stick and pour into flat dish (a 5x7-inch oven-proof glass dish is just right). Chill. Turn out on board and cut into squares or oblongs. Roll each piece in cracker crumbs; dip in beaten eggs and then coat with ground almonds. Chill again. Just before serving, saute in drawn butter over low heat turning carefully until nuts are brown. Serve immediately as is or flaming with warm rum, if desired.

Drawn (clarified) Butter. Warm butter over very low heat; as butter melts skim off foam. Butter will separate into a clear, almost olive oil, appearance and a whitish deposit will appear on the bottom of the pan. Strain off the clear portion into pan for frying. The remaining whitish deposit is wonderful for seasoning vegetables.

Flaiming Procedure. Warm rum gently; apply match and spoon flaming over Fried Cream.

Cold Soup Teen Treat For Summer

Summer is a time of increased activities for children and adults alike. Late afternoons find the kids dragging home, hot and tired though still bubbling, perhaps, with mischief or over-tired and keyed up and parents also weary from the day's activities. Now is the time for a cool relaxing drink. Here are some creamy, frosty soup cocktails filled with good milk nutrition as well as being lovely to look at that will hit the spot for both parents and children and give both generations a chance to relax together.

PINK VELVET

Chill 1 10½-ounce can each condensed tomato soup and 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup in refrigerator 3 or 4 hours. Just before serving blend thoroughly the two cans of soup, 1 soup can ice water and 1 soup can milk in a shaker. Pour into sherbet glasses or goblets and garnish with chopped parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

OLIVER TWIST

Chill 2 10½-ounce cans of condensed cream of chicken soup in refrigerator for 3 or 4 hours. Just before serving time combine soup, 1 soup can milk and 1 soup can light cream with ¼ teaspoon nutmeg in shaker; shake well until mixture is smooth. Serve in chilled glass bowls or tall glasses garnished with a twist of lemon peel of grated lemon rind for an extra tang. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FROSTY BLUSH

Chill 1 10½-ounce can each condensed cream of celery soup and tomato soup in refrigerator 3 to 4 hours. Just before serving thoroughly blend the soups with 1 soup can water and 1 soup can milk in shaker. Pour into large juice or old-fashioned glasses; top with chives. Serves 4 to 6.

Ripe Olive Dip Pleases

Ripe olive dip to please the men. Combine ½ cup chopped ripe olives, ½ cup chopped bologna, ¼ teaspoon garlic salt and 2 tablespoons pickle relish. Stir in sour cream to dipping consistency. Serve well chilled with an assortment of crackers.

Sour Cream Use Now Is In Millions

Popularity of dairy sour cream is rising to new heights as California's menu planners find new uses for this snow white smoothie with nary a sour note nor discouraging word. Californians consumed dairy sour cream last year to the tune of 24,808,000 pints.

The tangy flavor and velvety texture of today's dairy sour cream has made it the glamour girl of California's vast dairy food family. Good cooks throughout the country are glancing our way as production and use of dairy sour cream increases spectacularly. Up close to 50 per cent since the start of this decade, it is now declared to be a staple in home refrigerators throughout the state.

The flavor-making quality of today's dairy sour cream is far removed from the "soured" cream of yesteryears. Then it was exactly that, "cream that had turned sour during storage."

Today's dairy sour cream is scientifically processed under skilled supervision of trained dairy personnel. It is made fresh daily. The quality and goodness never varies from the high standards of the individual processors; standards that are frequently higher than those established by law.

Its uses are myriad: it tops juices and soups, both hot and chilled; it gives texture and zip to dips, dunks and spreads; it combines with or substitutes for mayonnaise in salads and sandwich making; it dresses fresh, frozen and canned fruits, berries and vegetables.

Many think it has no peer for topping fruit and berry pies and cobblers, warm cakes, spice cakes and fruit gelatin desserts. As an ingredient it enhances an ever-increasing array of dishes from lasagna to Bavarian creams.

Ice Cream Is Safer For Sweet Tooth

All too often children are cautioned against eating too many sweets for fear it, or they, will lead to tooth decay and the later accompanying miseries of the dentist's chair. Dentists today are all for an ounce of prevention, they do not really like to grind away on your teeth as many cartoonists would like us to believe, so they are in the forefront when it comes to recommending good nutritional habits to help prevent tooth decay.

Along that line there is one "sweet tooth" satisfier that can actually lead to stronger, healthier teeth . . . in two words, ice cream. The milk content of ice cream adds calcium to the diet, a prime component necessary for strong, healthy teeth. Not only that, but ice cream comes in such a multitude of flavors that there is bound to be one to satisfy the most naive or the most sophisticated sweet tooth. A "cool" way indeed to avoid any monotony when it comes to answering the call of that "certain craving."

Time Is Difference In Steak Barbecue

When individual steaks such as porterhouse are selected, they can be served rare or medium-done, as each member of the family wishes.

There's a difference of two to five minutes total cooking time between rare and medium when one-inch thick steaks are used. It's a little more of a difference with thicker steaks, but to a steak fancier the degree of doneness is important.

Let briquets burn until gray before placing steaks on the grill. If a grill thermometer is used, it should register about 350 degrees F. for the cooking period. The grill may be rubbed with a piece of suet trimmed from the outside edge of the steak, if desired, to prevent sticking.

Place steaks on grill and let cook 8 to 10 minutes. Turn with tongs. Season with salt and pepper. Let other side brown, about 8 to 10 minutes. Total cooking time for a 1-inch thick porterhouse steak will be 18 to 20 minutes for rare, 20 to 25 minutes for medium-done.

If the porterhouse steak is 1½-inches thick, the total broiling time will be approximately 20 to 25 minutes for rare and 30 to 35 minutes for medium-done, depending on cooking temperature and equipment used.

The 1-inch thick porterhouse steak weighs from 1¼ to 2 pounds while those cut 1½-inches thick weigh from 2 to 3 pounds.

Here are two zesty tidbits to add something new to your next steak cookout:

MUSHROOM CAPS CAULIFLOWERETTES

8 to 12 fresh mushrooms caps
8 to 12 fresh medium-sized cauliflowerettes
2 cups boiling water
½ cup water
¼ cup vinegar
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon dill weed
1 garlic clove, quartered

Add mushrooms and cauliflowerettes to boiling water. Cover tightly and cook slowly 5 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Drain. Combine ½ cup water, vinegar, salt, sugar, dill weed and garlic. Add vinegar mixture to cooked vegetables. Cover tightly and marinate in refrigerator for at least 12 hours. Turn at least once while marinating. Drain and serve with steak. If desired, these may be threaded on wooden skewers.

One-Dish Ideas To Try On Shipboard

Shipboard cooking is just a little different than everyday food preparation at home. While modern boats have complete cooking facilities in the galleys, space is limited even though appetites are not. Here are some one-dish-type recipes that are sure to bring the sailors in from the fog.

ICE CREAM COOKIE SANDWICHES

Here's Winning Recipes From the Recent National Orange Show

Your family will think you're the greatest if you surprise them with this "yummy" pie. Mrs. Orval Castro of Highland, California, won the National Orange Show sweepsteak award for this recipe.

LEMON CREAM PIE
(9-inch pie)

1 baked 9-inch pie shell
1¼ cups sugar
6 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons frtsh grated lemon peel
1-3 cups freshly squeezed lemon juice
2 cups hot water
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup dairy sour cream

Whipped topping or 1 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened. Prepare pie shell; cool. Combine all ingredients, except sour cream and topping in double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until thick and clear, about 10 to 12 minutes. Cool thoroughly; add sour cream, beating until smooth. Pour into baked pastry shell; garnish with whipped topping. Chill until set before serving.

NOTE: This makes a soft pie. For a firmer pie, combine all ingredients, except sour cream and topping, in saucepan instead of using double boiler. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Cook 2 to 3 minutes, allowing mixture to "bubble" from time to time. Cool thoroughly; beat in sour cream and follow directions above.

Mrs. Glenda Lancaster of Mira Loma, California walked off with the top cake award for this deliciously different California Heritage cake.

CALIFORNIA HERITAGE CAKE
(10-inch tube cake)

2¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
5 egg yolks
3 tablespoons fresh grated orange peel (about 1½ oranges)
¾ cup freshly squeezed orange juice
8 egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Sift together dry ingredients in large mixer bowl. Make a "well" in the center and add egg yolks, orange peel and juice. Beat at medium speed until very smooth. In another large bowl, beat egg whites until frothy; add cream of tartar and continue beating at high speed until very stiff peaks form. Carefully pour batter over whites; gently fold until well blended. Pour into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 55 minutes. Invert immediately and let stand until cool. Remove from pan; with a serrated knife, slice into 3 layers. Spread each layer with Orange Filling; sprinkle with Nut Crunch, reserving large chunks for top. Spread remaining filling over top of cake and garnish with remaining nut mixture.

ORANGE FILLING

1 cup sugar
¼ cup cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1½ cups cold water
2-3 cup freshly squeezed orange juice
2 tablespoons fresh grated orange peel (about 1 orange)

In small saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Blend egg yolks with water and orange juice; stir into sugar mixture. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly; boil 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add orange peel. Cool completely, stirring occasionally.

NUT CRUNCH

1 cup sugar
1½ cups chopped walnuts

In heavy skillet, slowly melt sugar until light golden brown. Quickly add nuts and stir until coated with sugar. Turn out immediately onto buttered cookie sheet. When cold, place in plastic bag and crush with rolling pin.

Pork Chops, Lamp Chops

A bit of flavor and nice rosy color come from paprika added to pork chops when they're dredged in seasoned flour. Make certain the heat is low if you're cooking them on a surface unit and no water or other liquid need be added.

Lamb chops take on an exotic air if they're marinated before cooking. For four to five shoulder lamb chops, mix one-third cup oil, one-third cup soy sauce and one-fourth cup lemon juice. Let the chops refrigerate in this mixture about two hours, turning once or twice, then broil. For this have the chops three inches from the heat and allow six to eight minutes on the first side and four to five minutes on the second side.

The Post's CHURCH NEWS

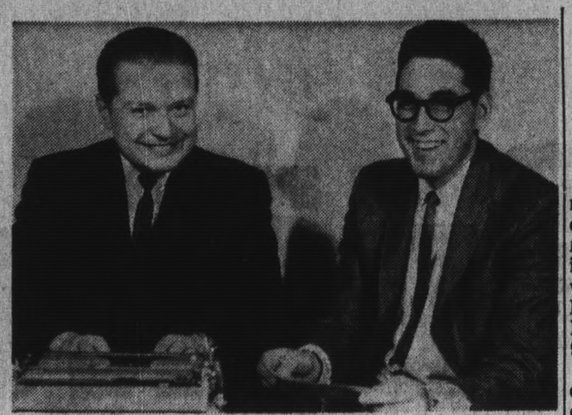
MEMBERS OF THE Women's Missionary Union of the Third Baptist Church of San Francisco were recent guests of the Women's Society of Seacliff Community Church, Daly City. The groups exchanged ideas and talent, and also presented their historical backgrounds during a discussion centered around "Encounters in Home, Church and Society." Pictured (l-r, back row): Mrs. Ralph Rowan, Mrs. Frank McMullen, Mrs. Richard Nelson, Mrs. William Hendricks and Mrs. Vera Clanton (l-r, front row): Mrs. J. Coy, Mrs. G. Simcox and Mrs. Wilbur Simcox. (Post Photo)

Arrangements For Assembly Are Completed

Lowell K. Yeatts, circuit supervisor for 16 San Francisco and Peninsula congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced the organizational arrangements for their circuit assembly, May 24-26, at the Winterland Arena, San Francisco.

William Thompson, presiding minister of the Daly City congregation, has been appointed assistant convention manager and Dale Dani of Colma is the assistant news director.

According to Yeatts, over 1,800 are expected to be present to hear the public Bible lecture, "Why Does God Permit Wickedness?" This discourse will climax the gathering on Sunday at 3 p.m., and will be delivered by Harry C. Good, district supervisor and travelling representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York.



EDWARD R. SHEEHAN (left) of El Granada and Dale Dani of Colma review assignments as directors of convention new-service for circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses this week in San Francisco.

Church Adds 22 Members

Twenty-two persons were accepted into membership at the Our Redeemer's Church in South San Francisco by baptism and membership transfer.

By baptism the following youth were accepted: Michael John Amodeo Jr., Robert Moffett Davis Jr., Peggy Jean Lindstrom, Jean Ann Macauley, Jennfier Eileen Macauley, Andrew Keith Owen, and Richard Patrick Hans Silk.

By transfer accepted were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Caspersen and family.

Mrs. Earle Clayton and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hein, Mr. Clive Logan, Misses Nancy and Janice Macauley, Mrs. Linda Miller and family and Mrs. D. R. Kyle and family also were received.

'Moral' Topic For Sermon

The sermon subject, "Christians Face Moral Needs," will be the preached by the Rev. Herbert Tweedie, this Sunday at the Broadmor Presbyterian Church, 377 87th Street, Daly City.

New members will be received at the 11 o'clock service.

The Junior Choir will sing "Let All the World in every Corner Sing" at the 9:15 and 11 o'clock service.

The adult choir will sing, "Oh How Amiable," at the 11 a.m. hour.

The subject to be presented at the adult study at 9:50 a.m. will be "White Racism" as the third of this series on "Christian Focus on Crisis in our Cities."

There is a coffee time from 10:30-11 a.m., which will especially honor the new part-time assistant pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. James Griffes.

Sessions of Sunday School are held at 9:15 and 11 a.m.

Infant care is provided during the morning hours.

Church's Project 'Summer Hope'

"Project Summer Hope," a national program of the American Lutheran Church, to help root out racism, poverty, and injustice in American society will be initiated by Bethlehem Lutheran Church, 533 Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica, May 26, at 9 and 11 a.m. worship services.

Representatives of the Negro community will speak to the congregation during the two worship services. Following both services, there will be a coffee and discussion period when participants may engage in dialogue on the issues.

"Our purpose," said Douglas Swendseid, pastor of the congregation, "is to provide a confrontation with the issues of the racial crisis in as direct a way as possible, and to listen and learn for the purpose of acting responsibly as concerned Christians."

The overall goal of the project, he said is to "arouse concern throughout the 5,000 congregations of The American Lutheran Church, develop understanding of racial problems, motivate involvement in community action, find ways of collaborating with governmental structures and to initiate help in instances of civil disorder."

A basic study text to be used in the project is the report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

Bethlehem Lutheran Church will initiate a series of small group discussions in June, involving members and friends of the congregation together with members of racial minorities in the community, using this report as a basic guide.

Then on Sunday Reverend MacArthur will be heard at the 11 a.m. worship hour and the 7 p.m. family fellowship gospel hour.

Special music for these services will be provided by the Ladies Trio, Male Quartette, Mixed Quartette of the Westside Baptist Church.

Rev. MacArthur

Next Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. the Women's Bible Class will meet at 533 Hickey Boulevard, (Fairmont) Pacifica, with Mrs. Barbara DeLung teaching from the Gospel of Mark.

Saturday at 8 a.m. the Men's Prayer Fellowship will meet at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno.

There will be no Junior GMG program on Friday evening because of the special evangelistic services of the church.

Tonight at 7 p.m., lay visitors will be out in the community calling in the homes of Sunday School pupils, and those who have visited the church. This program of visitation has been carried on in the past three weeks, in preparation for the Spring Evangelistic Thrust.

Two Delegates

The Rev. Irvin Tweet and Robert Burgess of the Redeemer's Lutheran Church in South San Francisco were among the pastors of 300 churches of the South Pacific District of the American Lutheran Church represented at the annual convention last week in Los Angeles.

2 Heroism Awards To Pacificans

Two Red Cross certificates of recognition were awarded for extraordinary personal action. The presentations were made by Pacifica Police Chief Neil Tremaine at the noon meeting of the Coastside Region Red Cross board of commissioners. Recipients were 21-year-old George Feist and 16-year-old Bill Richardson, both of Pacifica.

Feist, who works in Burlingame, was given the award for saving Kelly Cole, 12, and Mark Charles, 13, from the surf at Pedro Beach. The boys were in the sea with Kelly's father, Alvin, who was overcome by the surf. Mrs. Cole ran frantically to spectators on the beach, asking for help, until Feist plunged to the rescue.

The other award was presented to Bill Richardson for pulling a girl about three years old from Lake Berryessa. Bill and a friend were fishing when they noticed the child fall from a raft, and struggle in the water. After saving her, Bill took her to her parents. Richardson is an Oceana High School student, and the school's principal, Dr. Robert Watt, was invited to attend the meeting.

Mrs. George Elliot of Pescadero, the region's chairman of volunteers, reported on the recent national Red Cross convention, held in Denver, as well as on United Bay Area Crusade responsibilities.

About 30 persons attended the session, at which Ralph Larson, newly appointed chairman of the board of directors for Golden Gate Chapter Red Cross, was introduced.

Coastside Battles A Stubborn Fire

A determined squad of Pacifica firemen, backed by neighborhood volunteers, fought a difficult five-hour brush fire war in rugged terrain near Linda Mar Friday.

The enemy was finally defeated using an arsenal of back tanks, shovels, hoses and a homemade dunes buggy.

Casualties were considered low among the 18 Pacifica regulars and six teen-aged volunteers. Most were victims of exhaustion, minor cuts and bruises suffered while carrying the water tanks up the steep side of Pedro Mountain from the roadway.

The bitter fighting was along a 100-yard front and covered some one-half acre on the side of the mountain.

"Had the outbreak started next month (when the area would have been extremely dry) we would have had a real battle on our hands," a fire department spokesman at the front said.

Late last year, air support was called in further down the coast to aid in a firefight in similar terrain. The area was raked with borax from the air while ground forces moved in with water hoses.

Yesterday's fighting broke out shortly after some children were seen playing in the area. Firemen discovered a pole hut and fireplace in the burned-over site, apparently made by the children.

When the front line forces radioed for support from water lines, a four-wheel drive army truck was sent to the scene, but bogged down in mud and dense brush.

Off-duty fireman Wally Northrop, seeing the plight of his companions pinned down under heavy fire, rushed to the scene in his homemade dunes buggy, loaded it with hoses, water and other battle equipment and plunged into the thick of the battle.

Cheers went up as Wally pulled into sight with the needed equipment.

Small wisps of smoke still rose from the battle scene early this morning, a forward observer post reported.

Pacifican Safe, Truck Smashes Car

A Pacifica man miraculously escaped serious injury Thursday when the driver of a double-trailer dirt haul rig allegedly ran a red light and crashed into a panel truck at the intersection of San Bruno Avenue and El Camino Real in San Bruno.

Witnesses said a Western Trucking Company dumping rig, driven by Gary Lee Helms, 3225 Catalina Drive, Santa Clara, struck a smaller truck driven by Benjamin Hammond of Pacifica about 8:45 a.m., and knocked Hammond's vehicle across four lanes of traffic and into a utility pole.

Two passenger cars were damaged as Hammond's vehicle careened across El Camino, but the only apparent injury was a minor head laceration received by the Pacifica man. He was treated at a local hospital, but later released.

His vehicle was termed a "total loss."

Police said the dirt haul truck, en route to San Francisco International Airport from South San Francisco, was traveling at a "normal rate of speed, but failed to stop for the light," when the accident occurred.

Witnesses said the driver of the hauling rig appeared to be attempting a very fast left turn as the 75,000-pound vehicle skidded into the intersection.

Spot Pistol, Arrest Man In San Bruno

A young San Bruno man was arrested Thursday night after a service station attendant spotted a pistol concealed beneath his car coat, police reported.

Officer Robert Porras arrested Alfred A. Sarra, 21, of 2361 Toyon Drive, on charges of possession of a concealed weapon, carrying a loaded weapon, and possession of narcotics paraphenalia.

Sarra and another young man were apprehended by police on San Mateo Avenue after service station attendent James A. Hale spotted the gun about 7:25 p.m.

Brunan Hurt In Redwood

A San Bruno man suffereed first degree burns of the face and arms Thursday in Redwood City while helping a friend try to extinguish a fire in a pot of blazing grease.

Treated at Sequoia Hospital was Dan Pryjmak, 28, of 116 Santa Maria Avenue, San Bruno.

Firemen said that Pryjmak was visiting at the Robert Hunter home, 2646 Washington Street, when the grease being heated on the kitchen stove, caught fire about 8 p.m.

The pot was carried to the sink and the water turned on, causing the burning grease to flare up, burning Pryjmak, firemen reported.

Purse Taken In San Mateo

A 45-year-old South San Francisco woman was the victim of a purse snatch in San Mateo Friday morning, police said.

The woman told officers that the incident occurred at about 8 a.m. near the intersection of Santa Inez and Delaware. The suspects, a pair of young boys, made off with the purse which contained about $33 in cash and several credit cards and other personal items.

The incident was another in a series of purse snatches in that area of San Mateo.

Grave Decoration At Golden Gate

"On Memorial Day, Thursday, May 30, 1968, one of the most significant service projects of the year will take place at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno, as Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers from the San Mateo County Council will decorate more than 100,000 graves," according to pleted by the American Legion, flowers will be provided by the students of the San Mateo County public and private schools. D.C. Clean-up Week Slated

The Spring Cleanup Week campaign in Daly City will continue through next Sunday the City Manager's office announced today.

The public will be allowed to dump, free of charge, all trash at the city's Mussel Rock dumpsite during the campaign.

Capuchino Memorial Parade Set

The champion marching band of Capuchino High School has been named the host band for San Mateo's fifth annual Memorial Day Parade on Thursday, May 30. This word came today from Henry Use, chairman of the Northern California Spring Band Review, which is an integral part of the observance.

Capuchino, under the direction of Ralph Bredenberg, has won the Mayor's Trophy for the past three consecutive years, and thus decided to give other bands a chance to snare the coveted award. San Mateo High School band, which has played host for three years, now will be entered in the competition, and will be vying for honors as will a score of other bands from throughout Northern California.

Chairman Use indicated that band entries to date include Armijo High School from Pleasanton, Concord High School, Ignacio High. (also Concord), Seaside High from the Monterey area, Sacramento's Norte Del Rio High Band, Live Oak High of Morgan Hill, plus Woodside High School's contingent.

Among the junior high schools in competition, San Mateo's Borel Bobcats will attempt to take the first-place trophy from Parkway Junior High in South San Francisco, which won the award last year. Also in competition is a crack band from Golden West Intermediate School, at Travis Air Force Base.

As has been the case since the inauguration of the Spring Band Review, each unit will be professionally judged, accumulating points for appearance, musical and marching ability. The high school bands compete in different divisions, depending on the size of the school from which they come. Trophies are awarded in each division, with the best-overall band of the whole group collecting the silver Mayor's trophy.

Dad Killed In Gun Play

A young father of two was killed in a Daly City home Saturday night with an "unloaded gun."

Assistant Coroner Charles Zimmer said the victim, John L. Allen, 29-year-old San Francisco driver, was fatally injured in the home of relatives at 762 Niantic Avenue.

Witnesses told Zimmerman that Allen picked up a .22-caliber automatic pistol and was warned by the owner to be careful.

Allen, holding the clip in his hand, scoffed at the warning and insisted that he had unloaded the gun.

"Here, I'll show you," he said.

He placed the gun to his head and pulled the trigger. He was dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital.

Allen's wife, Liesje, who is expecting their third child, was in the house at the time.
